NEW CIVIL DEFENSE OFFICE is being created in the basement of the Madison City Hall, 1529 Third St. The remodeling will provide office facilities and equipment rooms for the City of Madison civil defense program. Doors were being hung Tuesday on the left for

New Year quiet

What kind of a New Year's was it? Relatively quiet, except at midnight New Year's Eve, when there was a lot of shouting, kissing, bursting of balloons, ringing of bells, operation of noisemakers and detonation of Unsub 400 of July firecrackers.

Church services were held in the Quad-Cities, and there were large and small gatherings in homes, restaurants, night clubs, taverns, halls and headquarters of fraternal and veterans' groups.

Nineteen seventy-four brought joy to many, but it also brought so much uncertainty and economic anxiety that most Quad-Cityans were pleased to see it depart.

Nineteen seventy-five, many reasoned, brings a welcome new phase of America's history book, a fresh page on which some of the problems of the past can be forgotten and new challenges can be dealt with.

Glen Hollis, 3030 Madison Ave., encountered an unwanted challenge even before the close of 1974. Tools worth $150 in a canvas bag were taken from his auto early Tuesday.

At 1:15 p.m. Tuesday near a tavern at 21st and Benton streets, police said they saw two youths apparently acting as lookouts and a third attempting to open an overhead storage area in a parked beer truck. They took into custody David Tanner, 19, of 1218 Granite Ave., and Gerald D. Ishum, 18, of 2141 Benton St., on charges of attempted theft.

Scott A. Bueger, 15, of 2129 Lindell Blvd., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday with a right leg fracture and bruises to the rib area, waist and left knee.

The boy had been crossing Johnson Road in the 1500 block, going north, and is believed to have been hit by the westbound auto of Gordon W. Lane, 2560 Stratford Lane.

At 9:30 p.m., Donald C. Goldschmidt, 18, of 2525 Delmar Ave., reported that after leaving from the hospital, he suffered a half-inch forehead cut when his auto and that of Angelo P. Bruno, 2816 E. 25th St., collided at the Edwardsville Road railroad crossing.

Paul E. Lewis, 2620 Sheridan Ave., reported that after midnight he lost his wallet—containing an estimated $700 in cash plus credit cards, his driver's license and personal papers.

Lewis recalled leaving one tavern and going to another; when he reached for his wallet to pay for a drink, he discovered the billfold was missing.

The dark red 1964 Chevrolet of James Adams, 2821 Myrtle Ave., was stolen from a parking place at his home early Wednesday, New Year's Day.

At 2:40 a.m. Wednesday, Larry L. Matyas, 23, of 2715 Buxton Ave., was charged with leaving an accident scene. A car had struck the parked auto of Mike Brown, 2021 Washington Ave., in the 1900 block of Maple St.

Glass was kicked out of the front door of Bennett's Auto Supply, 22nd Street and Madison Ave., at 4:15 a.m. Wednesday by a man who had been walking north and continued walking after the incident. Officers nearby in an unmarked car filed a charge of criminal damage to property against Randall Lee Purtee, 19, of 2561 Namekild Drive.

1974 bingo revenue up

The income tax and the sales tax continued to be the leading revenue producers for Illinois' General Revenue Fund for fiscal 1974 (the period from July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974), the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois reports.

The state income tax, with rates of 4 per cent on incomes of business and industry and 2½ per cent on incomes of individuals, produced $1,413,340,644, while the sales tax was a close runner-up, producing $1,370,520,722. The latter figure includes retailer occupation taxes and related taxes.

More people are playing bingo in Illinois, because receipts from this tax totaled $5,180,206 for the state in fiscal 1974, compared to $4,013,216 in fiscal 1973.

This tax was "born" in fiscal 1972, having been enacted by the General Assembly in 1971, effective Oct. 1, 1971. Even with a late start, it produced $1,173,796 for the state in that fiscal year.

The Illinois utility tax, levied at a rate of 5 per cent on the receipts of the sales of natural gas, electricity, telephone and telegraph messages, is a giant revenue producer.

In fiscal 1974, it produced $292,166,060 for the state, compared to $183,991,871 in fiscal 1973.

Even those paying for their overnight sleep in Illinois contributed something toward the state's General Revenue Fund; the hotel-motel tax brought in $13,086,243 in fiscal 1974, compared to $12,669,557 in fiscal 1973.

Even when you die, your heirs pay for the privilege of receiving your estate; the state inheritance tax brought in $80,880,795 in gross figures in fiscal 1974, down a bit from the $87,315,307 figure in fiscal 1973.

Receipts from this tax depend on when Illinois residents die and the size of the decedent's estates, the taxpayers' group noted.

Receipts from racing taxes in fiscal 1974 show that Illinois citizens and their visitors still like to do a little wagering.

Taxes on running horse races were responsible for $9,516,381 going into the General Revenue Fund, $3,295,300 into the Agricultural Premium Fund, the same amount into the Fair and Exposition Fund, $13,201,868 into the Metropolitan Fair and Exposition Authority Reconstruction Fund, and $1,697,650 into the Metropolitan Exposition Auditorium and Office Building Fund.

Steel prices cut, boosted

National Steel Corporation this week announced revisions of prices on some of its products.

The changes will result in no material increases in its overall sales revenues, a spokesman said at Pittsburgh. The corporation owns Granite City Steel.

Extra charges on cold-rolled sheets were reduced approximately 50 per cent, effective at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 1, 1975. This will lower sales revenues from all National's steel shipments by less than one per cent.

Tin mill product prices were increased approximately 50 cents per base box, effective at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 1. The changes, which will affect base prices and gauge and width differentials, will increase revenues from all steel product shipments by less than one per cent.

Carbon steel plates will be raised $10 per ton and structural steel product will be raised $5 per ton, both effective at 12:01 a.m. Dec. 31, 1974. "Plates and structural materials constitute very small part of National's shipments," the spokesman related.

"In total, these price changes will have an insignificant effect, less than one-third of one per cent, on National's total steel products sales revenue," it was asserted.

George A. Stinson, National Steel Corp. chairman, said: "Our costs of producing steel have continued to rise since the date of our last price revisions."

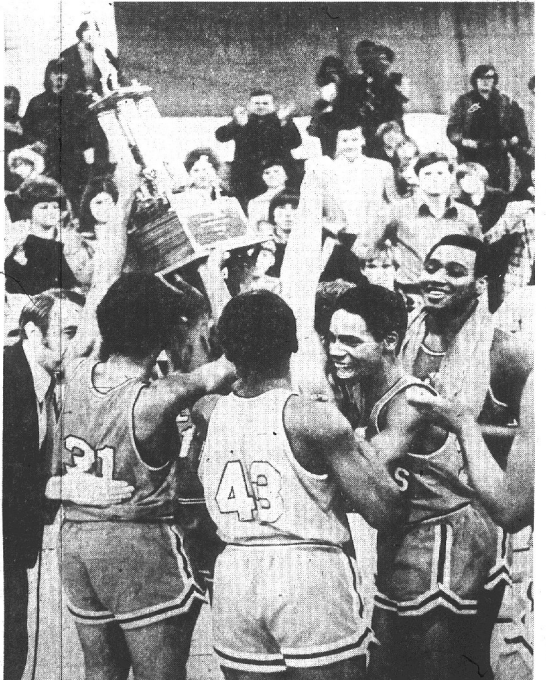

"Increases have been particularly significant in labor and energy costs; but, with few exceptions, we continue to experience escalations in virtually all materials and services which we buy."

"These price revisions fall far short of these increased costs. We are doing all in our power to minimize their unfavorable impact on our profits."

"No small part of the cause of our current inflation is due to shortages we have experienced in this country in basic materials, among which, steel is highly significant."

"Future requirements can only be met if we are able to generate the capital to meet the costs of expansion, programs of the character we are carrying out and planning to implement in National Steel."

"Accordingly, we will continue to make every effort to maintain needed financial margins, bearing in mind the dictates of the market place and the overriding long-term public interest."

Construction down in '74

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The national trend of reduced construction activity was reflected in Granite City during 1974 as total values for building permits issued during the year dropped to $1,781,946, or $327,466 below last year's $2,109,392.

The 1974 figure is $6,942,086 below the 1972 total of $8,724,032. Permits were issued for several large projects during 1974, but fewer than in previous years.

High interest rates and the shortage of reserve cash throughout the country are being cited by some as reasons for delaying or cancelling construction plans in the U.S.

In January, permits were issued for a $48,000 building at Jennings Wright Corp. and for a new $29,950 Bethel Baptist Church.

February permits included the new $85,000 Illinois State Employment Service office, the $20,200 J&J Liquor Store and a $10,000 warehouse for Sidner Supply Co.

Permits were down in March, but in April permits were issued for a $124,000 Liggett Steel Co. building, a $288,000 dispensary at Granite City Steel and for $5,600 in repairs at the Masonic Temple. No major projects were granted permits in May, June or July.

But in August, First Granite City Savings & Loan Association received a permit

1975—Dangerous trend to controlled economy?

The following analysis of 1974 occurrences and 1975 prospects is by the Industrial News Review:

Inflation now represents a greater threat to the U. S. economy, centered on private or investor ownership of industry and the competitive marketplace, than did the severe and crippling depression of the 1930s.

The massive unemployment and business collapse of the early and middle '30s gave rise to public support for a new and active role for the federal government in the economic affairs of the country.

The problem of unemployment was finally settled by World War II. After the war, maintenance of a higher level of employment became a permanent federal responsibility by virtue of the Employment Act of 1946.

In the nearly 30 years since that time, the role of government in a multitudinous range of domestic social service programs has literally exploded. The main thrust of inflation has been felt since this dramatic change in the role of the federal government.

Historically, inflation has not been a companion of economic growth in America. Many things contributed to relative price stability for the 140 years from 1800 through 1940.

Energy was cheap. Its application to industrial production was being made on an ever-broader scale and productivity was increasing. The efficiency of electric power generating stations, for example, increased rapidly with size.

Now the picture has radically changed. Demand for many things has outrun supply for a variety of reasons.

Promotion at GC Steel

Promotions are continuing at Granite City Steel, the local division of National Steel Corporation.

Robert D. McBride, who had been vice president-operations since 1966, was designated last week as vice president and general manager effective Jan. 1.

It was announced today by McBride that Arthur A. Kuhlman has been promoted to vice president-operations of the Granite City Steel Division, effective immediately.

Kuhlman has been general superintendent-finishing of Granite City Steel, largest steel plant in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Kuhlman, 50, came to Granite City Steel in 1943 as a laborer. He filled various maintenance and planning assignments and in 1961 became area maintenance superintendent in the steelmaking department.

He was subsequently promoted to the positions of superintendent of the cold strip department, division superintendent-rolling and finishing, division superintendent-maintenance, and division superintendent-maintenance and services.

He became manager of operations in 1968 and general superintendent-finishing in 1972.

Kuhlman attended Washington University while working at Granite City Steel and holds certificates in machine design, heat engineering and mechanical engineering.

He is a member of the Association of Iron and Steel

Sacred Heart Altar Society installs

New officers of the Sacred Heart Altar Society were installed at the group's annual Christmas party held in the Officers' Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

As part of the ceremony, Mrs. Gertrude Petty, installing officer, presented long stem red carnations to Mrs. Mary Jane Bess, secretary; Mrs. Kathy Foster, treasurer; and Mrs. Cell Cruse, vice-president. Mrs. Marie J. Prehn, president, received white carnations.

Seated with the new officers were Father James P. Hill, who offered the benediction, Father Daniel A. Flynn and Father Gerald J. Griffin.

Red candles in silver candelabra flanked a large seasonal centerpiece on the main table. Haloed snow angels on driftwood, used as individual favors, surrounded miniature gold-tinsel Christmas trees on the guest tables. Gold linens, commemorative of the society's 50th Anniversary year, also were part of the decor.

Other guests were Sister Mary Karla, principal of Sacred Heart School, Sister Barbara Mary, and Sister Mary Ruth, teachers at the school, and Mrs. Alice (Owens) Nomm. Mrs. Nomm served as the first secretary of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary which was formed on Dec. 8, 1924, at the newly-established Sacred Heart Church.

In lieu of the traditional gift exchange, those attending brought canned goods for the needy and monetary or material gifts for the Layettes for the Newborn program of Church Women United.

The Layette gifts will be presented at the Church Women United's general meeting and installation of officers to be hosted by the Sacred Heart Altar Society in the school cafeteria on Jan. 7, Mrs. Prehn announced. Christmas gifts were presented by Mrs. Prehn to the parish churches and to Mrs. Kathy Foster, church secretary, and Mrs. Toni Dolosie, rectory housekeeper. The Rev. Hill accepted the Christmas gift for the church. Sister Karla was presented the Christmas gift for the nuns. Mrs. Cecilia Loyet, the only charter member in attendance, was given a small gold ornament angel.

Entertainment was provided by the Madison Senior Citizens' Kitchen Band.

Mrs. Margie Greenwald and Mrs. Jackie Francis, co-chairmen for the party, were assisted by Mesdames Mattie Solitoff, Gladys Kolshar, Clara Reiss, Rosemary Holgrave, Jeanne Lucide, Pat McKee and Dolores Harizal.

Project prizes were awarded to Mrs. Esther Farr, a bracelet watch; Mrs. Elsie Brown, a ceramic condiment dish, and Mrs. Ann Barzoff, four place-settings of gold and white dishes.

Centerpieces and other prizes were presented to Father Hill, Father Flynn, Father Griffin, Sister Mary Karla, and Mesdames Anna Michels, Marilyn Layloff, Ann Vasquez, Gertrude Petty, Claire Bruder, Florence Ashal, Mary Jane Bess, Toni Mueller, Sharon Shevick, Alice Nomm, Esther Zimmer, Ann Mega, Susan Thompson, Kathy Foster, Florence Shevick, Teresa Alexander, Pauline Stephens, Grace Henrich, Margaret Kwiatkowski, Pat Mulachy and Beverly Matil.

Also attending the event were Mesdames Marie Perry, Mary Knowles, Irene Argelan, Helen Frances, Vivian Vivot, Catherine Fedora, Betty M. Gac, Carol Slezack, Norma Milnarec, Mae Gerbig, Mary

Special license plates requested by 150,000

By MARY LOU MANNING
SPRINGFIELD — If you were to group all 26 letters of the alphabet into every three-letter combination possible, you would have 17,576 possibilities.

Three thousand of those combinations are now available to Illinois motorists in the form of the newest number game in town: three-alpha license plates.

The popularity and issuance of these plates has boomed since the practice began last year.

Obviously, not all of the possible combinations are printed. The first year, 800 possibilities were available while the number swelled to 3,000 for the 1975 plates. The number of requests necessary for issuance has also mushroomed.

Last year, the secretary of state received 25-30,000 requests for "secretary plates," explained Norm Billington, legislative assistant to Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett. "These figures have reached 150,000 so far this year."

Those falling into the "secretary plate" category include two-alpha, three-alpha, special alpha, and two, three and four digit plates. However, the boost is due to the influx of applications for the three-alfas.

Billington's office has been designated to handle the special plate requests. His staff has temporarily swelled with "borrowed" workers to assist in the assignment of these plates.

"We have some help from our auto registration division to help get these plates out," he said. "Each application we receive is screened and, if the combination requested is not available, we will attempt to fill the request with a plate pertinent to the case."

"Then, each request is filed alphabetically."

The time element of a request is important because, generally, it's "first come, first served."

Of the 150,000 requests, 60,000 were delivered directly to the secretary's office with the bulk coming through the mail.

The most popular first letter requested is "R," followed by "M" and "J." The possibilities range from three-alfas alone, such as TOM, to three-alfas plus three digits, such as TOM999. (State law set the maximum number of characters at six per plate.)

"The most common requests are for three-alpha names with 'BUD' heading the list," he said. "After the various organizations, such as VFW, the most popular request is for 'USA'."

The issuance of two-alpha plates began about five years ago. Billington pointed out that many of these plate-holders are turning them in for three-alpha ones.

"The idea for the new plates originated from a letter by someone requesting a three-letter combination," he explained.

Gives grandfather clock to home

Fred Shaler of Granite City has made and donated a grandfather clock to the Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

it was announced this week. Proceeds from the home's first fund-raising bazaar, previously allocated to buy a clock, will be used by the Colonial Haven's Residents Council to finance the purchase of other times decided upon by the residents. It was learned. A monthly birthday party was hosted at the facility last week by women of the Bethel Church in North Venice.

Residents celebrating birthdays in December who were honored, included Florence Carter, Minnie Hoffman, Julia Thuis, Cora Frazier, Iva Nichols, Mignon Bringer and Agnes Plagemann.

Cake and punch were served and games followed. Prizes were awarded the successful contestants.

Various ceramic novelties were brought to the home by Virginia Miller and painted by the residents.

A traveling spelling bee trophy was won by Helen Clements and the traveling bowling trophy was received by Nina Pfadler.

Alfred Westphals mark 25th year

A surprise 25th wedding anniversary party was given last week honoring Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Westphal, 2124 Manley Ave.

The event was hosted by Mrs. Barbara Perkins and Mrs. Valerie Stevens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin V. Perkins, 2120 Manley Ave.

Appropriate silver decorations and seasonal flowers were used in the table appointments. A wedding cake was the focal point.

The guests of honor received many gifts.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wahrenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Westphal, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, Miss Laurie Perkins, Graig, Jed and Doug Perkins, Mrs. Ann Magyar, Mrs. Arthur Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens.

MR. AND MRS. WAYNE DAVIS who were married Nov. 15 at the Apostolic Pentecostal Church in Cahokia. The bride is the former Miss Pamela Sue Tucker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Tucker, of Columbia, Ill. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Lloyd Davis, 517 English Place, Mitchell.

ILLINOIS...

WITH JOHN H. KEISER
HISTORIAN
SANGAMON STATE UNIVERSITY

ILLINOIS WITHOUT CHICAGO?

Chicago, Wisconsin? Without the efforts of Nathaniel Pope, the cities of Chicago, Rockford, and 8000 square miles that now comprise the northern section of Illinois would have been part of Wisconsin.

During its territorial period, Illinois politics revolved around personal factions rather than political parties. In Pope's case, political relationships involved family ties as well. His nephew Daniel Pope Cook was clerk of the Illinois house and owner of the Illinois Intelligencer. Later the son-in-law of territorial governor Ninian Edwards. Cook used the paper to advocate statehood, and he promoted the statehood resolution through the territorial legislature. It was carried to Washington by territorial delegate Pope.

The petition estimated the state's population at 40,000. Ignoring the fact that much of that estimate was hopeful fantasy, Pope presented the statehood petition and chaired the select committee which reported favorably Jan. 23, 1818. As reported, the Illinois enabling act abolished property holding as a requirement for voting, an extended suffrage to all white males over 21 after six months' residency.

By the time the House voted on the enabling act in April, Pope had introduced three crucial amendments. One provided financial support for education from the sale of federal land. Another removed the requirement that the census to determine if the state had sufficient population for statehood be supervised by federal marshals. The wisdom of that amendment was obvious when the state-conducted census fell 6000 short of the requisite 40,000. Edwards ordered a new survey which by some optimistic "estimates" of distant settlements discovered 6258 previously unrecorded residents.

Pope's most important amendment, however, set the state's northern border at 42° 30' - 51 miles north of the original boundary and 41 miles north of that proposed in the original resolution. Indiana had set a precedent by changing its northern boundaries, and no one considered the change a crucial one. Wisconsin did not complain until 1842, and by then it was too late.

Pope's reasons included securing a "coast" on Lake Michigan and strengthening the "free state" status of the new state. He also wanted to include the part of Chicago in order to facilitate a proposed canal linking the Illinois River with Lake Michigan. His action changed the course of Illinois history.

William Burke dies at 81

William Burke, 81, of 4540 Parkway, St. Louis, formerly of Granite City, died at 6 p.m. Tuesday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Born in Belleville, he resided in this area for 18 years before moving to St. Louis.

Mr. Burke was employed as a shearer at Granite City Steel prior to his retirement. He was of the Catholic faith.

His wife, Mrs. Lula Burke, preceded him in death. Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Fouke and Mrs. Catherine Alexander, both of Granite City. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Harry Sabol dies in Israel

Harry Sabol, 96, a former Granite City tailor who moved to Bat Yam, Israel 10 years ago, died there on Wednesday of a kidney ailment.

During World War II, he raised more than $2 million in government bonds in honor of three sons who were in the service.

Mr. Sabol was born in Russia and came to this country in 1902. He first resided in Chicago then came to St. Louis where he worked as a tailor before he moved to Granite City where he operated his own shop on 19th Street for several years.

Mr. Sabol continued his tailoring work for students at a religious school in Israel and as payment the students read to him from the Torah.

His wife, Frieda Sabol, died in 1965 and two sons, Ben and Louis Sabol, also are deceased.

Survivors include two sons, Allen and Raymond Sabol, seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Bat Yam. The family suggests that tributes be sent in care of Rabbi Anglin Yeshiva Kadushas Tzion, Box 204, Bat Yam, Israel.

Venice — as it usually does — wins holiday meet championship

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Venice Red Devil cagers rolled to an 80-59 victory over Lebanon's Greyhounds at Freeburg Monday night to capture their ninth holiday basketball tournament title in 11 years.

The Devils had started their holiday cage meet domination in 1964 at St. Paul of Highland and then won three consecutive tournament championships at Freeburg, 1965-66-67.

Odin interrupted Venice's streak in 1968, but the Devils then won the following two meets.

St. Paul took the Freeburg-Columbia tourney in 1971 before Venice swept to the title in 1972-73 and again this year.

Monday's competition ended as it did in 1973, with Venice taking the winner's crown, Lebanon runner-up and Columbia taking third place.

Columbia downed Westclin of Trenton 70-65 in the third-place game. Wood River took consolation honors with a 102-80 win over Staunton on Monday.

Venice and Lebanon kept the scoreboard busy in the opening minutes of the championship game, matching baskets until three straight Devil turnovers gave the Greyhounds a 9-6 margin with five minutes remaining in the quarter.

A field goal by Devil James Crowder pulled Venice within one point, 9-8, before Reggie Gardner gave his team the lead at 10-9 with a 15-foot shot.

Venice all the way. The Devils led 19-15, 46-29 and 66-45 at the quarters, and outscored Lebanon 15-14 in the final period.

The Devils made good 35 of 61 field goal attempts and hit on 10 of 16 charity tosses. Lebanon made 28 of 60 from the field and three of seven at the foul line.

Venice committed the fewest fouls, 10-16, and turnovers, 16-20.

The Devils played the board well to pull down 38 rebounds to Lebanon's 23.

The Devils hit Mike Henry, 6-6 junior, with under-the-basket passes to help him accumulate 28 points in the contest. He also was the leading rebounder with

Senior Jeff Corrie hit outside shots for 16 points. Reggie Gardner and James Crowder each scored 15 and James Turner added six points.

Two Greyhound players scored in double figures, Dorsey Norman with 18 and Don Burns with 16.

The repeating champions, now with an 8-1 record, advanced to the title game against Lebanon with three straight wins: 80-75 over Freeburg, 75-44 over New Athens and 76-66 over Westclin.

Runnerup Lebanon posted a 93-35 first-round victory over Odin and then defeated Waterloo Gibeault 72-49 and Columbia 67-47.

Venice will next travel to Alton tomorrow for an 8 p.m. contest with Marquette.

Senior Jeff Corrie hit outside shots for 16 points. Reggie Gardner and James Crowder each scored 15 and James Turner added six points.

Two Greyhound players scored in double figures, Dorsey Norman with 18 and Don Burns with 16.

Tournament champion Warriors resume wrestling competition

It's over — one of the biggest undertakings held in the Quad-Cities each year.

The big Granite City holiday tournament, involving 16 teams of 12 wrestlers each, has been completed, with the results again underscoring local dominance in the sport. GCHS South won the tournament and GCHS North placed fifth.

The crowds were big and noisy, the competition was intense, and the victory was sweet. But it was far from "the last hurrah" for Granite City grapplers. A busy schedule awaits them.

It was the second straight Granite City holiday mat tournament victory for South's Warriors. One who is so for the season, North's Steeples have a 10-1 record this far.

The wrestling Warriors will begin 1975 calendar year competition at Springfield High this weekend. South will meet Quincy, East St. Louis and best school at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Steeler matmen will not resume the 1974-75 campaign until Friday, Jan. 10, when they will host Collinsville at 6 p.m.

South High School produced six individual weight class champions in capturing the tournament here. North had two second-place finishers.

the trophy). Pictured are, from left, Brian Wilson, 167-pound champion; Jim Caschetta, 98-pound champion; Steve Garland, 112-pound champion; Schmitt and Jones; Woody Halbrook, 105-pound champion; Don Hasty, 138-pound champion; Kevin Page, 119-pound champion; Mark Naglich, fifth-place heavyweight; and Jerry Patterson, 185-pound fifth-place medal recipient.

2-class tourneys in 1975 for golf as well as football, wrestling, basketball, track

The annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) boys' golf tournament series next fall will be conducted in the popular two-class format, Executive Secretary Harry Fitzhugh told the Press-Record this week.

Based on the recommendation of the Golf Advisory Committee, and action taken by the IHSA board of directors at its December meeting, schools entering next fall's series will compete for Class A and Class AA honors.

The IHSA will conduct class competition for boys next school year in football, golf, wrestling, basketball and track.

A total of 493 downstate and suburban schools entered last fall's boys' golf tournament series at the district level.

Of that total, 249 were Class AA schools and 154 were Class A schools. In the IHSA two-class format, schools with enrollments of 750 or less are Class A and schools with enrollments of 751 or more are Class AA.

The basic golf tournament structure will not be significantly altered. The number of schools competing at the district and sectional level will not change much overall.

Sectional champions from both classes will participate in a state final tournament the weekend of Oct. 24-25 on the Orange and Blue courses at the University of Illinois' Savoy layout.

The switch to class competition also will provide for greater participation, especially at the state tournament.

Each school will be allowed to enter six-player teams at all levels. The top four scoring players at the district and sectional level will be counted in the team scoring, and all six players will advance if the team qualifies.

At the state final, the four lowest 18-hole rounds per day will be counted in the team scoring, rather than the four lowest 36-hole scores, as has been the system in recent years. This change could produce significantly more keen competition for the team crowns, Fitzhugh commented.

District and sectional tournaments will be conducted separately by class.

In the Class A structure, there will be nine districts with 17-18 schools assigned and the top three scoring teams and top three scoring individuals who are not members of qualifying teams will advance to the sectional.

There will be three sectionals of nine teams each, and the top three scoring teams and top three scoring individuals who are not members of qualifying teams will advance to the state final tournament.

In the Class AA structure, there will be 15 districts with 17 schools assigned and the top three scoring teams and top three scoring individuals who are not members of qualifying teams will advance to the sectional. There will be five sectionals of nine teams each.

The top three scoring teams and top three scoring individuals who are not members of qualifying teams will advance to the state final meet.

In addition, one team and the top three individuals who are not members of the qualifying team from the Chicago Public League qualifying tournament will advance to the state final tournament.

In the event of ties for team advancement and/or state final qualifying spots in either class, all teams tied for the qualifying spots will advance. In the event of ties for individual qualifying spots for advancement in the series, those players tied for available places will meet in a sudden death playoff to determine who will advance. There no longer will be a disqualification penalty for playing the state final series once the tournament series gets under way.

GC ice hockey team hoping to move up in standings

The Granite City club of the Madison-St. Clair High School Ice Hockey Association could move into third place in River 4-5, Granite City 4-4 and Collinsville 1-9.

At 10:30 p.m. tomorrow, Edwardsville plays Wood River; Collinsville and Granite City will clash in an 11:45 p.m. game.

On Saturday, Alton and Granite City take to the ice in a 10:30 p.m. contest and at 11:30 p.m., Wood River and Collinsville meet.

Two losses by the third-place Wood River team and a victory by Granite City would move the local squad up in the standings. Granite City, in previous contests, has split a pair of games with Collinsville and lost two to defending champion Alton.

Association standings going into this weekend are: Alton 10-1, Edwardsville 6-3, Wood River 4-5, Granite City 4-4 and Collinsville 1-9.

State job freeze, cost controls ordered by governor

Gov. Dan Walker on Tuesday announced a job freeze and management control program designed to cut back on spending in order to maintain a "responsible bank balance."

Gov. Walker said a wider ranging program will be instituted "if the recession deepens and revenues decline sharply."

He continued, "These are very difficult times, and any cost cutting projects have to be viewed from two vantage points:

"1. The impact on the taxpayer. That is, to help prevent tax increases.

"2. The impact on state employees. I don't want to lay off a massive number of people if we can possibly avoid it."

The final determination of how far we have to go will depend on the revenue picture. We can and will get through this fiscal year without a tax increase.

"I believe that tight controls on spending will get us through the next fiscal year as well, barring a sharp decline in revenues."

The employment freeze and management control program is expected to result in savings of $15 million in fiscal 1975 and a similar amount in fiscal 1976, the governor estimated.

A careful screening of low priority programs is now under way, he said. These changes are to be implemented in the next several months.

Highlights of the governor's program include:

—Headcount will be frozen at Dec. 31, 1974, levels. No hirings will be allowed except for "critical people service areas," such as corrections, caseworkers and direct patient care personnel.

—No employee entering state service will be paid in excess of the Step 1 salary level in the pay grade in which hired.

—Each agency will be required to individually justify specific middle management positions. If the positions are not justified, the positions are to be eliminated, the governor said.

—The Department of Personnel will prepare statements of retirement benefits for older employees. All agencies will institute programs to encourage voluntary retirement of eligible employees.

—Overtime expenditures will be reduced by at least 20 percent.

—All agencies will reduce contractual services by 10 percent.

—No new publications will be started.

—Newsletters will be eliminated.

—Each agency will install a records management and records disposal system. No expenditures for additional document storage will be approved unless agencies have submitted such a system.

—No relocation of office space will be permitted or new leases entered into which result in increased costs without prior approval.

—All agencies will be required to reduce office and clerical expenses through the use of various pools, such as stenographic pools.

—Each agency will reduce copying costs by 50 percent.

—No agency or employee will be permitted full-time use of a state owned automobile unless the annual mileage exceeds 15,000 miles.

—Travel regulations will be amended so that, for employees traveling on state business:

A. Lunch expense will not be reimbursed.

B. Reimbursement for breakfast and dinner expenses will only be allowed if the employee must leave prior to 6 a.m. or work past 7 p.m. on any day away from the home office not requiring overnight expenses.

C. No employee will be allowed reimbursement for normal commuting costs or equivalent mileage when traveling on state business.

D. All agencies will designate travel coordinators to plan and approve travel requests and evaluate less costly travel alternatives.

E. A committee composed of the director of Personnel (or of General Services, when that jurisdiction is involved), the director of the Bureau of the Budget and the counsel to the governor will be established to review requests for exceptions based on hardship. Gov. Walker concluded.

Commission on Consumer Finance, it became clear that women were often turned down for credit only because they were women.

At the hearings, a widow described how she was refused charge accounts in her own name, though she could get accounts in her dead husband's name. A 40-year-old divorced woman with a full-time job needed her retired father to co-sign with her so she could get a mortgage loan.

Fortunately, women will never again face such discrimination.

But women-like men-do have a responsibility to show that they can handle credit cautiously. Never open more charge accounts than you can handle. Don't ever let yourself get in over your head when it comes to credit. You would face problems if you were ever turned down for credit on the ground that your credit rating is bad.

Keep that in mind as you consider these suggestions:

—Open a savings account and a checking account in your own name.

Married women often neglect this, but it is useful in helping you to establish your credit standing.

—If you are ever refused credit, find out whether the reason is that you have a poor credit rating.

Whenever you apply for credit, a report on your credit standing is prepared, usually by a credit reporting company.

Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, you have the right to learn the name and address of the credit reporting company that put together the report on you. Contact that company—they must tell you what information went into the report.

—If the data in the report is accurate, and if you were turned down because you actually do have a poor credit rating, get some help.

Talk with the credit manager at the credit reporting company. Ask for suggestions on what you can do to establish a sound credit rating.

—However, if the data in your credit report is inaccurate, take action.

The law sets up ways for you to remedy the situation if a false credit report has been filed against you. Learn your rights by getting Consumer Bulletin No. 7 from Federal Trade Commission, Legal and Public Records, Washington, D. C. 20509. It's free.

—Take action, also, if you are turned down for credit even though you do have a good credit rating.

Since the Equal Credit

Opportunity Act does not become effective until Oct. 1975, it will take time for some stores and lenders to change their old ways of granting credit. If you encounter situations which you think may involve sex discrimination, contact the U. S. Attorney for your district. You will probably find the U. S. Attorney's office in your phone directory, under Department of Justice, in the U. S. Government listings. If there is no directory, ask your local post office to help locate the U. S. Attorney for your district.

Besides the creation of a statewide bikeways program, the comprehensive bicycle plan calls for a bicycle safety promotion program. Objectives of the program include education, registration and standards.

The law which created the plan also requires bicycle riders to ride on the right hand side of the roadway, and mandates the observance of traffic regulations by bicyclists using a highway or bikeway.

It also requires a bicyclist to use a bikeway rather than a roadway when the former is available.

Set deadlines for fellowships

The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars has announced two new deadlines for its program of residential fellowships, according to the Office of Research and Projects at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The deadline for receipt of applications in the winter round of competition is Jan. 15, while the deadline for 1976 fellowships is Oct. 1, 1975.

The center encourages proposals in the fields of history, literature, philosophy, creative arts, sociology, anthropology, economics, psychology and natural sciences. A fellowship normally extends from several months to a year in duration.

Law assures credit for women

By VIRGINIA KNAUER
Special Assistant to the President and Director
Office of Consumer Affairs
Department of Health, Education and Welfare

Are you a working woman who handles her income wisely and who needs—or wants—credit? You can now be assured that your application for credit will probably be approved.

Under a new Federal law, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, women may no longer be denied credit simply because they are women. As of October 28, 1975—when the new law becomes effective—sex discrimination will be banned in the granting of credit. However, I hope that many progressive stores will not wait that long to give women their due credit.

The new law does not mean that stores and lending institutions must give charge accounts, credit cards and loans to every woman who fills out an application. What it does mean is that women applying for credit must be judged by the same standards used for men: a steady income, prompt payment of bills, a regular savings record, cautious use of credit.

This new law gives women protection they have long needed. Several years ago, during hearings of the National Commission on Consumer Finance, it became clear that women were often turned down for credit only because they were women.

At the hearings, a widow described how she was refused charge accounts in her own name, though she could get accounts in her dead husband's name. A 40-year-old divorced woman with a full-time job needed her retired father to co-sign with her so she could get a mortgage loan.

Bikeway program in state is slowed by lack of funds

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record

Springfield Bureau

The state bikeways movement has slowed down to a walk, but it has not been completely braked.

More than a year ago, legislation was passed to develop a state comprehensive bicycle program. However, the companion bill, which would have provided funds to implement the program, failed to win the governor's approval.

Therefore, the state has the program but no money to carry it out.

But the state does have an Interagency Bikeway Council, and it is involved in developing a program.

"At the present time, we have district bicycle coordinators trying to act as a catalyst with the communities, wanting to financially work on this on their own," explained Tom Mracek, a Department of Transportation representative on the council.

The district coordinators come from the state's nine highway district offices. Thus far, they have served as speakers and advisors to communities.

"There are a lot of communities interested in developing a bicycle program, more so than we imagined," he said. "We are hopeful that these communities will become a part of our eventual state plan."

Mracek indicated that some Illinois communities do have existing paths, especially those in the Chicago area. Madison County has established a nature trail from Pontoon Beach to Edwardsville.

"Many communities have set bicycle programs as a high priority project because of their large number of cyclists," Mracek said.

When the council moves into high gear, meaning receiving some cash, one of the first things it will do is compile an inventory of the existing bikeways.

Recently, Mracek attended a national conference on bicycle design, construction and maintenance held by a non-profit planning organization in California.

He said that Illinois was one of only a handful of states to send representatives from their departments of transportation.

Besides the creation of a statewide bikeways program, the comprehensive bicycle plan calls for a bicycle safety promotion program. Objectives of the program include education, registration and standards.

The law which created the plan also requires bicycle riders to ride on the right hand side of the roadway, and mandates the observance of traffic regulations by bicyclists using a highway or bikeway.

It also requires a bicyclist to use a bikeway rather than a roadway when the former is available.

Announcing a small change in your phone service.

Southwestern Bell
Illinois Bell

If you live in Illinois, and you have been a customer of Southwestern Bell, you now have a new telephone company. As of January 1, your phone service is being provided by Illinois Bell.

This may sound like a big change, but really it isn't. Because everything else is staying pretty much the way it is.

The rates you're charged for phone service are the same. And you can still pay your bill by mail or at your telephone Business Office.

To call the Business Office, Repair Service and Directory Assistance, you'll still use the numbers listed in the front of your phone book.

Local and Long Distance calls can be made the same way as before. And of course you can get assistance anytime by dialing 0 for Operator.

Illinois Bell is pleased to be serving you. And in the future we'll be working hard to make sure you always have the best phone service possible.

That's one more thing that's not going to change.

Nation's 595 women legislators include 15 in Illinois

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

At least 585 women legislators will take their seats alongside approximately 7,000 male counterparts this year, according to figures from Women's Election Central, a national organization.

Fifteen of the women legislators will convene in Springfield with 221 men.

This represents a gain of four in the Illinois Statehouse.

The roster of the outgoing 78th General Assembly includes three female senators and eight female representatives.

Sen. Betty Keegan, D-Rockford, died while in office and was replaced by another woman, Sen. Vivian Hickey, D-Rockford.

The 79th Assembly will include five new lady legislators, all coming from the lower chamber.

The new members are: Jane Barnes, R-Oak Lawn; Betty Lou Reed, R-Deerfield; Helen Satterthwaite, D-Urbana; Ann Willet, D-Hillside; and Wyvetter Young, D-East St. Louis.

The Senate's make-up will remain the same, with Sen. Hickey given the nod from her constituents. She joins veteran Sen. Dawn Clark Loutch and Esther Saperstein, both Chicago Democrats.

The staff side of the Illinois lawmaking body came into being with the election of Lottie

Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove.

Elected to the House in 1972, she served 13 terms in the lower chamber before being elected to the Senate in 1970, 1974 and 1978.

Since that time, 46 women have been elected to the legislature, including those taking the oath Jan. 8. Of this number, 23 are from Cook County and 23 are from the Downstate area.

Nationwide, New Hampshire has the largest number of women lawmakers with 104 out of a total of 481 legislators.

Vermont is second with 22 women members of a 180-member General Assembly.

The feminine roster of other states includes: North Carolina, 14; North Dakota, 15; Washington, 17; Arizona, 18; Colorado, 16; Maine, 23; Maryland, 19; Massachusetts, 15; and Connecticut, 26.

Colleen Jeffries wed in evening ceremony

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Dec. 27 of Miss Colleen Jeffries, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jeffries, 2677 Center St., and Gerardo Pagnani, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michele Pagnani of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Urns of poinsettias and a lighted Christmas tree provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 7 o'clock in the evening by the Rt.

Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly.

Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw presided at the organ and accompanied Miss Eric Mills, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "One Heart, One Hand."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white velvet. Her cathedral veil of bridal illusion was secured to a velvet and lace headpiece.

Decorative lace accented the round collar and marked the front of the fitted bodice. Matching lace encircled the waistline and created the cuffs of the long tapered sleeves.

She carried a colonial bouquet of green and white carnations and gold baby's breath, edged with Chantilly lace and trailing with green, gold and white streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Marilyn Wiser, a sister of the bride, chose a moss green velvet gown fashioned with long sleeves and an Empire waist enhanced with white lace.

Her colonial bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations, gold baby's breath and variegated greenery with gold and white satin ribbons.

Nick Markulin attended the groom as best man. Michael Jeffries, a brother of the bride, and Bob Huber, served as ushers.

Mrs. Michael Jeffries, the bride's sister-in-law, registered guests at a reception held in the parish hall immediately following the service.

Assisting at the tables were classmates of the bride, Karen Robertson, Cynthia Harris and Debbie Fercurcia. Lara and Lisa Wiser, nieces of the bride, distributed rice packets.

Janice Shankel, a friend of the bride, was a special guest.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jeffries selected a formal length gown in Nile green designed with long sleeves and a rhinestone belt and complemented with gold accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Pagnani, was attired in a floor length gold and black sheath dress worn with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of gold carnations and baby's breath.

A rehearsal dinner was held on the evening preceding the wedding at Charlie's Restaurant.

After a wedding trip to Springfield, Ill., the newly married couple will reside in Charleston, Ill.

The bride is attending Eastern Illinois University and will graduate in May. She is a member of Phi Alpha, Eta, Kappa Delta Pi and Sigma Delta Pi societies. Her husband received his B.S. and M.S. degrees at EIU. He is a member of the all American Soccer Team, Association of International Students and the Physical Education Club. Out-of-town guests included the parents of the groom and Mr. and Mrs. Armando Fiorillo and sons, James and Michael, of Edmonton, Alta., Canada, a brother-in-law and sister of the groom.

Nameoki church installs elders

The Nameoki United Presbyterian Church this week held an installation and ordination service for newly-elected ruling elders.

Bob Hogan and Al Bagl were installed, while Mrs. Annadell Grant was ordained before her installation in office.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor, with participation by the members of the session.

Eugene Flinn, Larry Lockhart, Tony Butkovich, Joyce Toussaint, and Nona Corzilius were installed as deacons.

New Year's communion service on Sunday will mark the beginning of 1975, according to the pastor. The service will begin at 10:45 a.m.

On Christmas Sunday, six new members from six different denominational backgrounds were received into the membership of the church. The new members are Paul M. Doroghazi, Mrs. Genevieve McComis, Stanley A. Welch, Miss Mildred K. Lovejoy, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Price, the Rev. Pierson said.

MISS CLAUDIA WARREN, whose engagement to Michael Lynn Haskins is being announced by her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. James D. Warren, 203 Summit Ave., Hannibal, Mo., formerly of Granite City. An August wedding is planned.

Haskins-Warren engagement

The Rev. and Mrs. James D. Warren, 203 Summit Ave., Hannibal, Mo., formerly of Granite City, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Claudia Sue Warren, to Michael Lynn Haskins.

The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alford Haskins, 217 N. Locust, Hannibal. A graduate of Hannibal High School, he presently is attending Hannibal-LaGrange College, where he is studying to become a minister of youth.

Miss Warren, a graduate of Granite City High School South, also attends Hannibal-LaGrange College. She is planning to become a minister of music.

The bride-elect's father is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clarksville, Mo. Plans are being completed by the engaged couple and their families for an Aug. 16 wedding.

Dreams part of mental health search

(This column is provided by Forest Hospital in Des Plaines.)
"All of us have the experience that sleep restores," said Dr. Milton Kramer, "and it seems to restore us both physically and mentally. There's been an enormous search over the last 20 years to establish in a scientific way the restorative basis for sleep."
Kramer is director of a sleep laboratory at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio, and a professor of psychiatry at the University of Cincinnati. He's also author of the books, "Dream Psychology" and "The New Biology of Dreaming."
"Physically," Kramer said, "we have reason to believe that certain parts of sleep participate in the physical rebuilding of certain kinds of cells. This tends to occur quite early in the night and is accompanied by secretion of the growth hormone. There's probably protein build-up, too, protein being one of the basic building blocks of cells."

"FROM THE psychological aspect of sleep, the current belief is that it restores one's mood, how one feels," Kramer said. "Upon awakening, one either feels refreshed or down, depending on the sense one has of the sleep, whether one feels he slept well or poorly. Particularly, the dream content, the mental process accompanying sleep, seems to be intimately related to how one feels."
"By the dream content, I mean that how one feels seems to depend on the characters that appear in the dreams. For an individual, if the proper people appear in the dream, he'll feel good on awakening, relative to nights when the proper people don't appear and he feels depressed on awakening."

Kramer said.
"Then we get into sleep disturbances," Kramer continued. "The commonest complaint is of insomnia, which comes in three forms. One form is difficulty in getting to sleep in the first place, where a person will lie awake for anywhere from a half hour to three hours. Another is a person will get to sleep fine right away, then wake up for a time. Another is a person will sleep for three or four hours, then wake up and lie awake till it's time to get up in the morning. This latter difficulty is perhaps the easiest of the three to treat. It is typically caused by some psychological depression. When we treat the depression the problem is usually resolved."

"HARDER TO DEAL with are the difficulties of falling asleep at the onset and the interrupted sleep. These two afflict about 20 per cent of the total population. The problems are frequently physiological, usually respiratory. People have some trouble breathing. They may even stop breathing as they start to fall off to sleep, then actually awaken themselves to start breathing again. This will happen over and over. If they take sleeping pills which depress the respiratory center, they increase their difficulty."

"Sometimes," Kramer said, "people simply develop bad habits associated with sleep, and the very act of going to sleep is associated in their mind with difficulties. In these cases, they require retraining in the procedures associated with the actual act of preparation for sleep. Or some have disturbed body rhythms. When everybody else is going to sleep after a long day, their bodies don't want to — they're out of phase with themselves. We can either try to change the body rhythms or change the time when they try to go to sleep."

"In treatment for insomnia, after completely assessing the physical and emotional state of the patient, we may use hypnotic drugs, relaxation treatments or electroshock. The most important treatment factor a person with sleep difficulties can use is regularization of habits, setting up a train of action and behavior prior to sleep which will lead to sleep."

Driver license stations open on Saturdays

Driver's license examination stations throughout the state, including the station at 1815 Edison Ave., will be open Saturdays beginning this weekend; Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, reminded residents this week. The stations, however, will close on Mondays.
All 89 downstate driver examination stations will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesdays. Only written examinations are to be given Wednesday evenings after 4:30 p.m.
Twenty-six downstate facilities which were approved for limited service last fall will continue their normal schedules. These facilities are open from one to three days a week in locations provided by the communities they serve.

Act, according to the Office of Research and Projects at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.
The U. S. Office of Education has issued priorities for determining the award of funds under the Act. Priority areas are:
1) Resource material development projects which foster the development of supplementary, guide or curriculum materials.
2) Personnel development projects to provide participants with skills and techniques in communicating environmental principles and concepts to others.
3) Community education projects designed to test or demonstrate promising methods of providing a community with an understanding of environmental principles, concepts and problems.
Guidelines and applications are available at the SITE Office of Research and Projects. The deadline for receipt of applications is Jan. 23, 1975.
TAKE GUNS, CASH
Guns and cash worth a total of $355 were stolen from the home of Robert Kindall, 720 Ashland Ave., Mitchell. It was reported this week. Entry was gained by damaging a door and window.

Meet Stan Kann—the 'vacuum man'

By JEFF NELSON

ST. LOUIS — "Here. You gotta notice the difference in sound. We really should plug them in together so you can hear them together."

"Now this Apex has an entirely different sound..."

Whirr.

"Now, I'll let you listen to the... In those days each cleaner had its own characteristic. See that one doesn't sound at all like this one, this Premier."

Whirr.

"Now this Airway, it doesn't sound like either one of them. See each company had a different pitch in their blade." Whirr.

Heck. They all sounded the same to me. But then, I don't have the trained ear that Stan Kann has. No chance at all could my ear compare.

First, I haven't been playing the piano since I was eight. Neither did I start playing the organ when I was 10. And neither did I start getting hung up over a vacuum at 10. Click, whirr, click. Click, whirr, click.

Leisure life for Stan Kann since age 10 has been a real turn on.

Stan Kann, of course is that funny, kind-of-little guy who has been appearing with regularity lately on the late afternoon and late night television talk shows.

He, with his dimpled chin and grin smile and yet sad eyes and bushy, graying eyebrows and wheezy laugh, has been everyone's fall guy: Johnny Carson's, Mike Douglas', Art Linkletter's, Dinah Shore's.

He'll come waiting out on stage looking like Mr. Confidence to demonstrate antique gimmicks. Mostly the things are intended for the kitchen. An automatic apple peeler. A spaghetti maker. A bean stringer (for string beans, naturally).

"Now this thing here," he'll start out, "is supposed to (grunt) cube pineapples (groan), and it (sproing)... well, it (crash)..."

It won't work. It rarely does. (It's not supposed to). Stan is introduced with the kicker that he's brought a bit more "more," meaning that he's been on the show before, of his gimmicks with him, when in reality the first time he ever sees his "things" is on stage.

Now, at home, with his own, real, private collection of "things" ... well, I'm afraid the story is about the same. Grunt, groan, sproing, crash. Such thumbs I have never seen.

But if there's anything he can do, it's playing the organ and fixing vacuum cleaners. Especially the old ones. Vacuum cleaners, that is.

The evidence is the rooms full of old and used and restored vacuum cleaners. He can dismantle any vacuum cleaner, so long as it's old, and put it back together again with the best of them. Except those thumbs get in the way again any time he has an audience of one.

They stand there like funny little soldiers, those vacuums. For some the vacuum bodies and bags are boxed and stored away for protection and preservation. There's another corner filled with antiques, not just old vacuum cleaners, but pre-electric motor models. These jobs you pump by hand. Some require two people to operate — one to pump the other to sweep. Others have the pump built into the handle and work like a bicycle tire pump in reverse.

All this started 38 years ago when he was 10. "I used to walk along the street and hear a cleaner and go crazy. I used to run up to the house and I'd ask the people if I could watch them run their vacuum cleaner. They weren't anything new, but it was a novelty to me because we didn't have one."

"I'd go up and knock on the door and ask them, 'Can I watch you run your Eureka?' or Hoover or whatever they had."

"Sometimes they'd let me in. Sometimes they wouldn't. You know I learned the sounds. I'd be walking along the street and pretty soon I was able to tell what kind they had, what model it was and whether it was cleaning right. If the bell was broken I could tell by the sound. See, every vacuum cleaner has its own pitch."

"It got to be absolutely important that I be able to recognize these things. I can't so much after 1945. Around 1945-50 they began getting all alike."

"Even today they all buy their motors from the same company and they buy parts off each other. Today everything's out of one pot. Individually has left everything. It's just a shame. I knew a Hoover 700 from a new Hoover 800. They didn't sound anything alike. And I knew a Eureka Model 9 from a Eureka G-2. Electrolux had its own sound. Airway — I knew an Airway immediately on hearing that. Everything General Electric — Nothing whine like a G-E."

HAPPY HOBBYIST: Stan Kann, a St. Louis TV personality, had his heart captured by the whirr of a vacuum cleaner when he was 10, began collecting them and now has more than 200.

"And I didn't think there was anything funny about it. I used to collect these things and bring them home. And gradually one, two, three, four, and it got bigger, and bigger and bigger and my folks raised more and more hell."

"So then I began fixing them. I could fix them like crazy. And one day I got a job. I was about 16, I think — selling door-to-door for the Airway Company. They just came out with their first tank type — the kind that lies on the floor, you pull around with a hose. But the Hoover 700 was my favorite."

"So I'd get to a house that had a Hoover 700 and instead of trying to sell them the Airway I'd try to see if their Hoover was working all right. If it wasn't I'd fix it up for them."

Airway didn't get wind of it until he quit. "I've kept track of every cleaner. Where it was made. When it went out of business. Still do."

"I've got parts. Anybody who's got a very old vacuum, I can fix their 1918 Hoover. Mostly it is just the belts. Or the cord."

"Uprights have revolving brushes and they go around and beat the rug. They all have revolving brushes now. Even the tank types. After many years of making straight suction they all came to the conclusion that you have to have a revolving brush."

"For all we know, Stan Kann may be the only vacuum cleaner expert around. His collection of better than 200 cleaners is very valuable to him. He won't even part with one. But the irony of it is: When he dies the collection will become worthless."

His bushy brows peaked, his mouth turned at the corners. "When I'm through with these things you know what I'll have to do? Junk them all. No matter how perfect they are. Maybe I could sell them ... anyone of these cleaners that I have will clean as good as anything you could buy today that you pay $79 or $99 for. But you say, 'Why do I want to buy a 40-year-old vacuum?'"

He almost had me convinced. But what about the wife? Driving back to Springfield, fighting St. Louis rush hour traffic, I had a 40-year-old advertising slogan to throw in the wind at the madmen behind the wheels of 4,000-plus automobiles.

"It beats as it sweeps as it cleans. Nobody has positive agitation but Hoover."

That 700 — what a honey.

Busy winter program is to begin at 'Y' Monday

"Jan. 6 to Feb. 22 has been set as the seven-week winter program session at the Tri-City Area Y.M.C.A.," Harold R. Rudolph, executive director, reminded local residents today.

Fifteen different activities for men are planned for the week of jogging, volleyball, basketball, swimming and judo, to social dance and the weight room.

Dishwasher needs some care

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Advisor-Home Economics

The automatic dishwasher usually self-cleans its tub. However, after a time, the white film in the tub from hard water may need to be removed by wiping with a damp cloth and a mild cleaning powder.

Remove any sediment or objects found in the bottom of the tub.

Clean enamel exteriors with a warm, damp, nubby cloth; rinse and wipe dry.

Keep the brushed stainless-steel bright by using a solution of two tablespoons of packaged water softener dissolved in warm water and drying with a soft cloth. A soft cloth saturated with rubbing alcohol compound wipes over the surface also cleans satisfactorily.

If you have a wood cutting board on the top of the dishwasher, wash it with a sudsy cloth and rinse with clear water. To keep it in good condition, apply a light coat of mineral oil.

If you run out of automatic dishwasher detergent, wash the dishes by hand or rinse them and hold.

Hand-dishwashing and laundry detergents cause excessive sudsing. Excessive suds may cause an overflow that can short and ruin the motor. Furthermore, excessive suds cushion the jetting water and prevent it from hitting the dishes with enough force to make a scouring action.

Automatic dishwasher detergents stored in a damp area—under your sink—may leave deposits on your dishes.

After the box has been opened, the detergent may not dissolve during the wash cycle, leaving usually tan or white sandy deposits. Therefore, store the automatic dishwasher detergent in a dry place.

Burned-on food cleans easier if you fill the pan with water and a automatic dishwasher detergent and simmer gently to 15 minutes.

Etching—a permanent film—looks frosted or iridescent on scratched or pitted glassware. It cannot be removed, but you can try to prevent it.

Etching is caused by the removal of metallic ions from soft glass by alkaline wash solutions. It can be caused by the use of excess detergent in soft water or with pre-rinsed dishes that leave no fat or acid to counteract the alkalinity of the detergent.

To prevent etching use a minimum amount of detergent and load the machine to insure adequate rinsing.

dancing for beginners and intermediates. (2) Women's ballet and modern jazz dance classes.

Fourteen activities are planned for teens from judo, weight room, swimming, swim team and social dance to belly dancing, modern-jazz dance and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs.

Mrs. Norma Mendoza is the new director of the Tri-Hi-Y Clubs for teenagers that meet on Monday evenings at 6 o'clock.

Sixteen different activities for youth are slated, including swim classes, swim team, tumbling, judo, tap dance, ballet and modern-jazz dance.

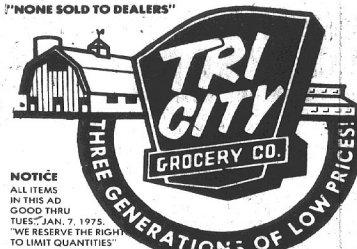

Classes are arranged to allow YMCA members to register early for them. But persons who are not members may also register for a specific class, Rudolph said.

Registration is being conducted this week and through Monday, Jan. 6. Classes will begin next week.

"The YMCA will continue to emphasize family togetherness by providing gym-swim-game room time on Tuesday evenings, Friday evenings and Sunday afternoons," Rudolph said.

Good leadership and proper supervision for the classes are stressed in all of the YMCA activities to be certain that persons can learn and enjoy the programs," he stressed.

Hearing at Maryville on new rules for Children and Family Services

Four public hearings on revised official regulations of the state Department of Children and Family Services were announced Tuesday by Acting Director Mary Lee Leahy.

Mrs. Leahy said hearings will be held from 1 to 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 13 in the conference room of the State Office Building, 2209 W. Main St., Marion.

Jan. 14 in the gymnasium of the Maryville Children's Center, located on Route 157 in Maryville, Madison County.

Jan. 16 in Room 1818, State of Illinois Building, 160 N. LaSalle St., Chicago.

Jan. 28 in the City Council Chambers, third floor, Municipal Building, 7th and Monroe streets, Springfield.

N&W plans $105 million expansion

Norfolk and Western Railway Co. expects to spend $105 million for capital improvements across its 14-state system during 1978.

John P. Fishwick, NW's president and chief executive officer, said the figure represents an increase of about 36 per cent over the estimated $77.2 million expended in the past 12 months and the additional outlays for both road and equipment are designed to improve the carrier's service.

While many new projects will be initiated, Fishwick pointed out that next year the railroad will realize the benefits of several improvements now nearing completion or scheduled to become operational before 1978.

Construction of a new $2.2 million computer center already is under way at Roanoke, Va. The 72,000-square-foot structure is to be completed next year and will house the railroad's central computer operations.

A $13 million microwave communications system is expected to become operational late in the year between NW's headquarters at Roanoke and regional offices in Cleveland. When completed a year later, the 2,400 mile network will provide a closer link between operating personnel and the company's expanding computer system.

In the equipment area, NW will purchase 66 locomotives, 329 boxcars, 100 flatcars, 300 coal steel cars, 26 fully enclosed tri-level rack cars, and 100 bi-level racks. The railroad early next month will resume its construction program of 100-ton coal hoppers at the Roanoke shops. About 1,200 cars of the 2,000 car order will be completed by the end of the year.

Also, the railroad plans to order 100 cabooses during 1978 for delivery in the latter half of 1978.

In addition to the car building program to meet the increased demand for coal shipments, the Norfolk and Western expects to construct new installations and rearrange many existing ones at the Appalachian coal mines it serves.

As evidence of this increased demand, the NW has received during recent months over 100 applications for the development of rail sidings at coal mine sites. Normally, the railroad receives about a dozen applications a year.

To improve the maintenance of its track, Norfolk and Western will install 36 miles of continuous welded rail, 85 miles of jointed rail, 180 miles of continuous welded rail relay and 64 miles of jointed rail relay. The carrier also plans to clean and surface more than 2,300 miles of track, install 1.4 million tons of ballast and install over one million ties.

A yard rehabilitation program begun last summer will be continued next year.

New car repair facilities will be built at Bluefield and Elmore, W. Va., and Chicago, and a locomotive-serving area will be constructed at Weller, Va. The present car repair facility at Kansas City will be relocated.

The NW expects to make dock improvements at Detroit, Mich., Sandusky and Huron, O.

Copies of the regulations, covering 130 printed pages, are available for review at any of the department's 18 area offices, 73 field offices and nine institutions throughout the state, Mrs. Leahy said.

Area DCFS offices also have extra copies of the regulations available for loan to interested citizens and organizations. These offices are located in Chicago, Aurora, Champaign, Decatur, East St. Louis, Joliet, Marion, Moline, Ottawa, Peoria, Quincy, Rockford, Salem, Springfield and Waukegan.

Examples of topics covered under the regulations are admission procedures to department institutions, procedures for reporting suspected child abuse cases, guidelines for purchasing services for children under state care, and policies concerning access to records by persons receiving department services.

"All state agencies should periodically submit their operational policies for public review and criticism," Mrs.

Leahy said. "We welcome the views of all citizens concerning these rules which guide the department's services to children, families, and handicapped persons."

If further hearings are required, they will be scheduled in February, she said.

The public hearings will cap a year-long effort by DCFS to renew, clarify and consolidate existing regulations. Appropriate revisions will be made after the hearings. The regulations then will be filed with the secretary of state and will have the effect of law.

Persons wishing to testify at any of the hearings should notify Neil Matlins, deputy director for planning, evaluation and research, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706, by mail on or before Monday, Jan. 6. They should signify the topics they wish to

Ransack house

The home of Gerhard Maass, 2325 Woodlawn Ave., was entered after glass in the rear storm door and rear door were broken.

A chair was propped against the inside doorknob of the front door to prevent it from being opened from the outside. The house was ransacked.

Taken were a ring, $100 cash, three guns, a stereo and two speakers, two cameras, a pair of binoculars, a radio, a television and a quantity of liquor.

Some of the stolen liquor was found under a bush beside the alley near the rear of Maass' home.

UFO detectors Explorer topic

If you are interested in learning how to build a magnetic detector to alert you to UFOs (Unidentified Flying Objects) you may want to visit the Explorer Post 2001 meeting at 7 p.m. today in the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. building, 3703 N. Meeker Road.

According to Post President Forest Crawford, the topic of tonight's meeting will be the building of different styles of magnetic field detectors.

Crawford has built three of them.

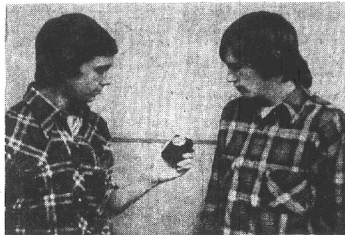

Explorer Crawford said, "Ninety per cent of all UFO sightings have magnetic interference, such as power derived completely from an auto or radio interference.

"UFOs will have a very intense magnetic field when hovering that will have a diameter of around 300 feet. This would completely tear up an individual that came too close to it. When they have landed, the magnetic force has been reported somewhat milder," Crawford concluded.

Crawford said that any one at least 14 years of age or older interested in attending the meeting today is welcome.

Exploring is a division of the Boy Scouts of America designed to meet the needs and interest of young adults. Most Explorer posts are organized along career or hobby interests.

Workers assigned to Chouteau jobs

James Estes, highway commissioner of Chouteau Township, told the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors Monday night that six new men his department has been granted under the Madison County Manpower Development grant have been put to work erecting street signs, cleaning culverts and at other projects.

The township receives use of the workers free as long as the federal grant to the county is continued.

The town board voted to hold its regular meetings on Mondays, Jan. 6 and 20 and Wednesday, Jan. 17, all beginning at 7 p.m.

66 state scholars here

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission has named 15,130 students as state scholars in the 1975-76 competitive State Scholar Program. High school academic record and examination scores are used in the selection.

Those honored include 66 Quad-Cityans. The state scholars represent nearly every high school in the state and were chosen from the 44,255 students who entered the competition by taking either the April 27 or June 15, 1974, examination administered by the American College Testing Program (ACT).

All state scholars received a Certificate of Merit from the commission which personally and publicly identifies them as having high academic achievement in high school. The state scholar may qualify for monetary assistance through the monetary award program of the State Scholar Commission.

Monetary awards, up to $1,350 for 1975-76 for use toward tuition and mandatory fees, are based on financial need as determined by the ISSC need analysis formula.

Monetary awards are applicable at public or private colleges or hospital schools of nursing in Illinois.

Need is evidenced by data provided by the student and his family in the 1975-76 monetary award application. Any student who is not named in the competitive State Scholar

Program who also is a permanent resident or citizen of the United States, an Illinois resident, and will attend approved college, university or hospital school of nursing in Illinois in September 1975, may obtain a 1975-76 monetary award application from his high school counselor or by writing directly to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, 102 Wilmot Road, Deerfield, Ill. 60015.

For the 1974-75 academic year, approximately 70,000 undergraduate students are being assisted with nearly $52,000,000 in monetary awards.

New law creates treatment centers to help alcoholics

Gov. Dan Walker on Monday announced his final approval of the bill improving the Regional Transportation Authority, decriminalizing alcoholism and tightening state regulation of savings and loan associations.

The bills were among 13 measures which Gov. Walker certified as complying with his amendatory veto suggestions to the General Assembly.

Under the amendatory veto procedure, instead of signing or vetoing a bill, the governor suggests specific changes and returns the bill to the legislature, with the assurance he will approve it if the changes are accepted.

If the legislature concurs with the changes, the bill is sent back to the governor, who then decides whether to certify that the changes voted by the legislature comply with his suggestions.

The amendatory veto clause in the 1970 State Constitution was sustained by voters in a statewide referendum in November 1974.

The RTA bill (SB 1452) strengthens the new authority and makes it more palatable to suburban opponents — particularly by requiring that 100 per cent of any RTA taxes collected in any of the six RTA counties be returned to that county in services, Gov. Walker said.

The bill as passed would have permitted units of local government to bypass the RTA and apply directly to the state or federal governments for mass transit grants.

"Such direct dealing would have frustrated the regional transportation planning function of the RTA," the governor commented.

Gov. Walker's amendatory veto struck the bypass provision and the deletion was accepted by the lawmakers.

"The alcoholism treatment bill (SB 1674) establishes a new network of state and local treatment centers to take the place of jail cells for alcoholics and persons accused of public intoxication," Walker said.

"Alcoholism and public intoxication are considered health problems instead of crimes, under the new law."

"Driving while intoxicated and other offenses from intoxication which pose a danger to others are still punishable offenses, however."

"The change accepted by the legislature gives state and local officials time to establish the new treatment centers, by making the effective date of the law next July 1 instead of last Oct. 1. No funds to establish detoxification centers were appropriated for the current fiscal year."

Bill 1674 was sponsored by Sen. Dawn Clark Niesch (D, Chicago) and the Public Health, Welfare and Corrections Committee.

The savings and loan bill (HB 1133) increases the state Savings and Loan Commission's authority to protect savers and mortgage borrowers.

Under the new law, directors and officers of savings and loan associations are specifically held accountable for any mismanagement of an institution. Conflicts of interest on the part of directors are more strictly curbed under the new law, and criminal penalties for mismanagement can be imposed for the first time.

"The bill was prompted by the failure of the City Savings Association and the policies followed by that association's directors," Gov. Walker said.

He suggested and the legislature concurred that the bill's provisions for auditing procedures and restrictions on loan amounts be made consistent with existing federal regulations.

Bill 1133 was sponsored by Rep. Joseph G. Sevcik (R, Berwyn).

The other measures that Gov. Walker certified as conforming to his amendatory veto suggestions are:

Senate Bill 1291 clarifies the term of the state Board of Elections chairman. The amendatory veto struck another section which would have changed the bi-partisan distribution of election judges in DuPage County.

The stricter section would have given the majority party three out of five judges in each election precinct instead of allowing each party a majority of judges in half the precincts. (Sponsor: Sen. John A. Graham, R, Barrington)

Senate Bill 1527 reserves to the state the power to license and regulate sanitarians. The veto struck a section which would have prevented the Department of Public Health from requiring minimum training of sanitarians if they could practice. Sanitarians inspect public restaurants and other public places for sanitation hazards. (Sponsor: Sen. Stanley B. Weaver, R, Champaign)

Senate Bill 1538 creates a study commission for a model school for the deaf and hard of hearing.

The amendatory veto struck sections which might have limited the study to Northeastern Illinois. (Sponsor: Sen. Karl Berning, R, Deerfield)

Senate Bill 1676 establishes an advisory board to assist the Department of Public Health with respect to the delivery of emergency medical services. The bill also lowers from 18 to 17 the minimum age for donating blood without parental consent. The amendatory veto struck some language "that might have unduly restricted actions by medical professionals in emergencies." the governor said. (Sponsor: Sen. Graham)

House Bill 2220 requires state anti-pollution agencies to maintain the confidentiality of industrial trade secrets.

The amendatory veto clarified the definition of trade secrets and deleted certain criminal sanctions which are already provided in other statutes, Walker asserted. (Sponsor: Rep. Roland F. Tipword, D, Taylorville)

House Bill 2281 allows one local government to construct and maintain streets within another local government, if both agree to the arrangement.

The amendatory veto struck another provision that would have permitted local governments to use state motor fuel taxes for maintenance of non-dedicated subdivision roads.

The subject of motor fuel tax distribution is currently under study by the state Department of Transportation. (Sponsor: Rep. Calvin L. Skinner, R, Crystal Lake)

House Bill 2619 authorizes the Department of Mental Health to sell certain state property in Elgin to the city of Elgin. The amendatory veto allows the department to refuse to sell the land if the buyer's intended use is not consistent with surrounding land use. (Sponsor: Rep. John E. Friedland, R, South Elgin)

House Bill 2667 permits renewal of leases on Illinois and Michigan Canal lands, without the loss of the right to purchase. The amendatory veto changed the length of the option to purchase from the individual's lifetime to five years. (Sponsor: Rep. James R. Washburn, R, Morris)

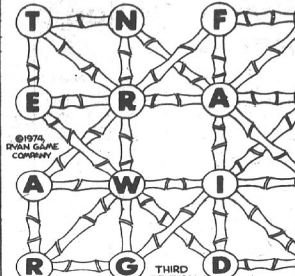

House Bill 2673 provides for deferred compensation plans for employees of the state, local governments and school districts. The amendatory veto lifted the restriction on types of agents who can make investments under the new plans and clarified the limited obligation of the government unit involved. (Sponsor: Rep. Robert M. Torzich, D, Chicago)

House Bill 2861 reverses an

Illinois Supreme Court decision which required that the Illinois Commerce Commission, in setting utility rates, disallow any portion of a purchase price paid by a utility to an affiliated manufacturing company which would result in a yield to the affiliate exceeding the rate of return allowed the utility itself.

As the bill passed, the ICC would have been prohibited from disallowing any such amount Gov. Walker said.

The amendatory veto restored the situation to the way it was before the Supreme Court decision, by leaving to the ICC the question of allowing or disallowing purchase prices paid to affiliates. (Sponsor: Rep. Gerald W. Shea, D, Riverside)

'Penny University' planned at First Assembly church

The First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, will begin a new "penny university" on Thursday, Jan. 9.

The phrase "penny university" is being used as the faculty members donate their time. Fees paid by students are minimal.

The courses are designed for adults whose formal education has ended, but who desire to remain abreast with contemporary developments and trends, according to David Williams, coordinating director.

A number of local university and high school faculty members will participate as instructors. The courses will be offered each Thursday evening from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Each course will last one hour.

Courses offered will fall into three major categories, Christian studies, social studies and the arts.

Christian studies classes include Life of Christ Part I, at 7 p.m.; Fundamentals of Faith, 8 p.m.; and The Acts at 9 p.m. Social studies courses include Introduction to Sociology, Global Issue Part I, Background into the Middle East 1914-1974, and Introduction to Psychology.

Courses in the arts are Art Appreciation, Oral Communications of Ideas, Studio Art, and Mime. A course titled "Human Development Methods" taught by Williams will meet from 10 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. and may be taken for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville credit.

Classes are arranged on a trimester basis and will last approximately 12 weeks. In addition to the "university," a Whole-Life school designed for youth of pre-school through high school age also will be held from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Thursday evenings. The Whole Life School will feature classes and seminars concerned with Christian studies and character development. There is no enrollment cost for youth. Registration for the courses will begin today and continue through Jan. 9, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., at the church's office. More information may be obtained by telephoning Williams at 877-3430.

Economic impact bill killed by state's 'hysterical propaganda'—Manufacturers

(Illinois Manufacturers' Association)
In Illinois, several departments of state government recently engaged in questionable activities to help kill a bill supported by business and industry.
The bill, S.B. 589, would have required an agency of state government to conduct annual economic impact studies of the costs of environmental control rules and regulations.
Governor Walker's veto of the bill was the signal for a concerted attack on the bill which bordered on the hysterical.

State Environmental Protection Agency Director Richard Brice sent a letter to many environmentalists in which he charged the IMA and the State Chamber of Commerce with being special interest groups "more interested in profits than in people."
The state Pollution Control Board used its official Newsletter, for three straight issues, to attack the bill.
The Board, supposedly an objective, judicial agency, even went so far as to include in the Newsletter a three-page propaganda sheet from the League of Women Voters, full of one-sided arguments against the bill.

Attorney General William Scott was moved to send out a press release opposing S.B. 589. And Region V of the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency sent a telegram to state senators warning of a cutoff of federal funds if the veto was not sustained.
One major argument used by these propagandists was that adoption of S.B. 589 would require public hearings on economic impact and the reopening of the hearing record on all existing pollution rules, and that this would mean existing rules would become unenforceable, depriving the state of federal wastewater plant funds.

This very effective argument was apparently not developed until after the bill had been through both houses of the legislature and on the governor's desk.
But, as IMA pointed out during the debate on the veto, the Pollution Control Board has itself reopened the hearing record on numerous regulations and adopted amendments to existing regulations, as provided by Section 28 of the Illinois Environmental Protection Act.

No voice has been heard from government agencies, that this reopening of the record would suspend existing rules.
Legal experts are of the view that no Illinois court would stop enforcement of existing pollution regulations because of enactment of S.B. 589, and that most arguments against the bill were faulty and misleading—government "Glibber."
IMA believes that these and other propaganda activities of the agencies involved are questionable, and that the Illinois General Assembly should carefully consider whether the agencies are misusing appropriated funds.
Defeat of S.B. 589 will not end the debate over the economic impact of environmental regulations.
Nor will it weaken IMA's insistence on comprehensive, costs-versus benefits analysis of all governmental regulations.

Reception for new state school leader

A reception for Dr. Joseph N. Cronin, newly appointed Illinois superintendent of public instruction and education, will be held Monday afternoon, Jan. 6, at the University Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.
Co-sponsored by the SIUE School of Education and by Harold "Gene" Briggs, superintendent of the Madison County educational service region, the reception will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Monday in the Mississippi Room of the Center.
Dr. Cronin plans to meet with Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIUE, earlier in the afternoon.
Stefan P. Krechniak, acting dean of the School of Education, said Cronin has expressed a desire to meet with educators from this region of Illinois, particularly school board members, school administrative teams, presidents of teacher organizations and members of the education faculty at SIUE.
Krechniak said it will be the first in a series of personal assessment-type meetings which the state superintendent designate hopes to schedule around the state.
"He wants to familiarize himself with the educational problems peculiar to this region of Illinois," Krechniak explained.
Cronin will be the state's first appointive school superintendent. He is scheduled to officially assume his duties Jan. 13, having been appointed by the Illinois State Board of Education in December.
His most recent post was secretary of educational affairs for the governor of Massachusetts.
Previously, he had held the Ruling favors Colonial Haven

A National Labor Relations administrative law judge who has been studying labor practices announced an order today upholding the Colonial Haven Nursing Home, 3900 Stearns Ave., but also banning it from participating in interrogation, requests for surveillance, restraint or coercion with employees regarding union activity.

Judge Jerry B. Stone announced his opinion that a strike by employees from April 27 to May 31, 1974, was for an unlawful purpose and that the nursing home was within its rights in replacing striking employees.

"The overwhelming weight of the facts reveals that the union employees were motivated in having a strike as a means of putting pressure on the (nursing home administration) to immediately and voluntarily recognize the union as bargaining agent rather than waiting until the proper time for an election or recognition," Stone said.

Stone said a previous attempt to have Service & Hospital Employees' Local 50 of Service Employees' International recognized as bargaining agent for the employees had been rejected by the National Labor Relations Board as premature, since the nursing home plans to add new facilities and increase employment substantially.

Stone said he found some evidence of interrogation of employees concerning union activities and of requesting one employee to report on the union activities of other employees. He ordered that such activities by the administration be halted immediately.

The judge said he found insufficient evidence to support claims that the company granted raises to some employees to discourage union activity, that is discouraged the wearing of union buttons, and that it used sick pay benefits as a basis for discouraging recognition of the union.

Stone's ruling may be appealed by either side in the dispute to the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, if so desired, it was noted.

GC New Year's baby—'75

The new year was only 82 minutes old when Tonya Marie Keelin made her debut into the world at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The New Year's Baby of 1975 is the first child of Hillary and Nancy Keelin, 4901 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Tonya Marie was born at 1:22 a.m. Wednesday. She weighed seven pounds and one ounce.

Continuing a tradition established several years ago by the Granite City Jaycee-Ettes, the young woman, auxiliary once again amassed an array of useful and attractive gifts for the first baby of 1975.

A total of 26 local merchants participated in this year's gift project, which was under the direction of Mrs. Pat Aleman, assisted by Mrs. Nancy Krause and Mrs. Linda Weible.

Little Miss New Year is the maternal granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip (Shirley) Lane of Granite City. She is the paternal grandchild of Mrs. Wanda Keelin of Granite City and the late Hillary Keelin.

Several gifts already had been delivered to the hospital early this morning, including feeding bottles and sterilizer and a playpen.

In addition to the items contained in a complete layette for the infant, a bouquet of red roses was presented to the new mother, an annual courtesy paid each New Year by Fer's Flowers.

At a time convenient to the new parents, dinner will be served in their honor at Charlie's Restaurant, a unique trophy, especially designed for the occasion by the House of Trophies, also was among the gifts arriving today for Mrs. Keelin, the former Nancy Copeland.

"She was quite excited and really couldn't believe it when all the packages started arriving," a hospital spokesman commented today about the new mother's reaction.

Unlike last year when only one infant, Jason Devin Ellis, was born at the GC hospital on New Year's Day and then 13

FIRST BABY OF 1975, Tonya Marie Keelin, sleeps contentedly through the excitement of gifts arriving this morning at St. Elizabeth Hospital for herself and her mother, Mrs. Hillary (Nancy) Keelin. At left is Miss Lana Dreiemeyer, a Licensed Practical Nurse in the hospital's nursery. Tonya Marie, who weighed seven pounds, one ounce, is the Keelins' first child. She was born at 1:22 a.m. Wednesday.

News notes

The Southern Illinois Builders Association has elected as its 1975 president Howard H. Hall of H. H. Hall Construction Co., East St. Louis. New second vice president is Guy Stevens of S. M. Wilson and Co., Granite City.

Tentative recommendations by the Illinois Bankers Association call for permitting a bank to establish one branch per year in the same city as its home office or within five miles of the city limits. A bank holding company could expand within contiguous counties, under proposal by a special bank structure committee.

The Urban League office, 500 Madison Ave., will conduct job interviews through Jan. 7 for a recruiter counselor who has knowledge of "client sectors and community agencies" in Madison-Bond Counties. The individual would be responsible for assisting clients in "assessing their own potential and interest."

The 100 million Illinois state lottery ticket was sold Tuesday.

Circuit Clerk Willard Portell said Tuesday his employees are paying two per cent of their pay instead of 1 1/2 per cent to a fund for his 1976 re-election campaign. He said the contributions are voluntary.

Restaurant workers at the Pere Marquette State Park lodge picketed it Monday, alleging that the new manager, James Depper, is trying to eliminate the Bartender and Restaurant Workers union as the employees' bargaining agent.

The Madison County governmental fund surplus, which has been substantial for a number of years, totaled about $7,900,000 at the end of the 1973-74 year Nov. 30, a report showed this week.

Found dead in wrecked car

Robert L. Robinson, 27, Washington Park, was injured fatally yesterday when his auto left the roadway on Sand Prairie Lane just north of Interstate 70, travelled about 300 feet in the grass and stopped in about two feet of water in the Cahokia Canal.

The time of the accident is not known. The auto was first seen in the water at about 3:40 p.m. yesterday by two Collinsville men who notified District 11 of the Illinois State Police.

Mrs. Robinson was found inside the auto and was declared dead at the scene at 4:15 p.m. yesterday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Herbert Kassel.

It was reported Mr. Robinson had been thrown into the passenger seat of the car. He suffered severe head and chest injuries and was believed to have died quickly. The passenger compartment of the car was not in the water.

Mr. Robinson had last been seen shortly after midnight by relatives.

Mr. Robinson was the brother of Robert L. Robinson (Billie Marie) Meyer of Granite City. Other survivors include his wife, Mrs.

Diane Robinson; a daughter, Miss Teri Lee Robinson; at home; two others sisters, Mrs. William (Jean) Eason of East St. Louis and Mrs. Stephen (Sue) Whiteside of Edwardsville; a brother, Willard Robinson, Jr. of Washington Park; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard "Bill" Robinson of Washington Park.

His body was taken to a Fairview Heights funeral home where services are to be conducted at 1 p.m. Saturday, Burial will be in Valhalla Cemetery, Belleville.

COMMITTEE OPERATIONS are explained at the annual Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, meeting Monday night. From left are Terry Becker, Troop 31; Robert Gabalis, Troop 34; David Welch, Troop 30; Steve Truccaro, Troop 83; Tim Herberts, Troop 86, and Randy Affolter of Explorer Post 10-4, explaining procedures on unit membership elections. Rotter, Wiese are honored; Kearns is new Arrow chief Bruce Rotter, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Rotter, 2717 Washington Ave., and Kevin Wiese, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wiese Jr. of Highland, were honored Monday night at the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, annual fellowship banquet in Collinsville.

Over 100 young Arrowmen and several adult members of the scout-honor camping society gathered to review the activities of the lodge during 1974 and made plans for the new year.

Highlights of the evening included the presentation of the "Outstanding Service Awards" to Rotter and Wiese and the recognition of the new officers for 1975 who were elected at Camp Sunnen in September.

Officers guiding the lodge activities for the coming year are Kevin Kearns of Granite City, lodge chief; Bob Dixon of Venice, lodge vice-chief; Rotter, secretary; and Wiese, treasurer.

Retiring Chief Mike Bilbrey, Venice, opened the meeting with a welcome to the membership and then turned the meeting over to Kearns.

Chief Kearns explained the selection procedures for the "Outstanding Service Awards" and made the presentations to Rotter and Wiese.

Rotter, a senior at Granite City High School South, was inducted into the Arrow in June 1973 and became a Brotherhood member in June 1974. In September, he was elected lodge secretary for 1975. He formerly was a Boy Scout in Troop 8 sponsored by the First United Presbyterian Church of Granite City and currently is secretary of Explorer Post 10-4 in Madison.

Rotter has been active on the lodge fellowship dinner, business meeting, pancake breakfast, and camp promotion committees.

Wiese, of Highland, is an Eagle Scout and a member of Troop 43 sponsored by the Evangelical and Reformed Church there. He was inducted into the Arrow in July 1973 and became a brotherhood member a year later. He has been active on the fellowship dinner, camp promotion, and fall conclave committees. Wiese has been a member of the Camp Sunnen summer camp staff for the past two summers.

Following the dinner, G. Rollin Henn, past president of the Cahokia Mound Council and a member of the Vigil honor committee, gave special recognition to the two Arrow members that were inducted Sept. 14, into the Orders highest honor known as the Vigil. Chief Kearns and Advisor Mennerick were the recipients of the honor.

The members attending then divided into several small discussion groups in which questions were answered about the various lodge operating committees. The members were allowed to choose the committee on which they wished to serve on.

Slides were shown of the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico and Arrow activities over the past year. Several members then presented a comedy skit, with the assistance of William Monick, scout executive, based on an Olson and Johnson routine from "Hells a Popin'" which include passing several large 25-pound blocks of ice around the banquet tables.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the Arrow song.

Essay contest on merchant marine topic

High school students in the St. Louis metropolitan area may win free ocean voyages and river trips through essays on the American Merchant Marine. The St. Louis Merchant Marine Club is sponsoring the contest, which will close March 1.

Theme is "American Merchant Marine—Key to Industry and Commerce."

Sophomores, juniors and seniors in high school are eligible for the contest. Essays are to be from 1,000 to 1,500 words.

Last year's local winner, Miss Laura Jean Petersen of University City, also won a national prize, a river trip from St. Louis to New Orleans and return.

The National Propeller Club of the U.S., Washington, D.C., conducts the annual Harold Harding Memorial Contest, named for the organization's late national secretary-treasurer.

The Propeller Club is composed of marine operators, shippers and others who operate and support the

Levi must buck some headwinds

President Ford's intended nomination of Edward H. Levi as attorney general may or may not be controversial, but Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., believes the president of the University of Chicago can weather a storm on Capitol Hill.

Percy seems to have had rare luck with his recommendations for federal positions. The last three Illinois candidates he recommended to President Ford for the federal bench, for instance, were confirmed by the Senate without delay.

The Levi nomination apparently is not destined to be a pro forma procedure. President Ford has not even sent Levi's nomination to the Senate, and can't now until the new 94th Congress convenes in January, but his intention alone seems to have generated opposition.

If the storm signals are right, Levi must buck some headwinds if he is to succeed William B. Saxbe, who is being posted to India as ambassador.

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Nebr., the ranking minority member, reportedly are miffed that the White House failed to advise them of Mr. Ford's intentions to nominate the liberal Democrat.

Sen. John Tower, the Texan who chairs the Senate Republican Policy Committee, is said to have relayed this conservative sentiment to the White House.

The contretemps puts Percy in the middle. Traditionally, the senior senator of the party in the White House sponsors nominees from his home state, but must remain silent until the President forwards the nomination to the Senate. While Percy observes the protocol scrupulously, it is no secret that he is sponsoring Levi, a longtime University of Chicago associate whom he admires and likes. Percy is a university trustee.

Percy makes no bones about his high regard for Levi's character and reputation.

"I feel Ed Levi is one of the most qualified men that could serve in this administration," the senator told a recent news conference when the nomination was brought up.

"He's one of the toughest minded men I've known," Percy added.

This could have been an allusion to Levi's firm rejection of student militancy at the university he has headed since 1968. He was formerly provost of the university and dean of its Law School.

Levi, 63, planned to retire next September, according to a university announcement.

Percy said he "understood" that Levi has not sought the nomination as attorney general, but he would accept it.

Percy also said while he may not have heard of any individual criticism of Levi's pending nomination, "obviously there would be criticism" of almost any candidate for a post as significant as that of attorney general.

"I know this," Percy continued, "It's the President's desire to have him. I've talked to the President."

"He'll stand whatever test is put to him," Percy said of Levi's chances in the confirmation procedure.

MacArthur photographer recalls Leyte landing

Major Gaetano Fallace, U.S. Army (Ret.), of North Hollywood, Calif., whose photograph of Gen. Douglas MacArthur wading ashore at Leyte when the general kept his pledge to return to the Philippines became world famous, visited during the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Konkovich, 2802 Dogwood Drive.

The former newsreel cameraman and personal photographer to Gen. MacArthur met here with Paul Barnett, a member of Amvets Post 51, who piloted the landing craft on which the late general rode to fulfill his promise to return to the islands on Oct. 20, 1944.

It was the first meeting in 30 years for Barnett and Fallace. "They enjoyed reminiscing and exchanged stories about the landing and other events leading up to retaking of the Philippines," Konkovich reported.

The photographer was the first person to jump off the boat into the surf at Leyte Island after the vessel had struck a sandbar and Gen. MacArthur said, "Lower the ramp and we'll go ashore."

Fallace was the only photographer allowed to snap MacArthur with Emperor Hirohito and thus became the first ever to photograph the Japanese Monarch. He was the recipient of the Silver Star, the sole photographer ever to receive an award, among other decorations, including the Bronze Star, Philippines' Gold Cross and the Purple Heart for wounds received while covering the Battle of Manila.

Recently, the British Broadcasting Corp. visited Fallace to film an interview as part of a BBC documentary film on MacArthur. His home is filled with his own and MacArthur memorabilia, including 100,000 feet of film and 80,000 slides which he has used in lectures.

Konkovich said Maj. Fallace has met with Gen. Frank McCarthy, producer of the film, "Patton," who is planning a production on MacArthur. Film footage and other material belonging to Fallace probably will be used in the proposed movie.

The Granite City resident met the former Army photographer while in Hollywood last year and arranged the reunion with Barnett, a St. Louisan and personal friend.

WEDDING PLANS are being made by Miss Yvonne M. Romanic and her fiancé, Neal L. Hickman, whose betrothal was announced during the holidays by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony W. Romanic, 1823 Edwardsville Road, Madison.

Hickman-Romanic betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony W. Romanic, 1823 Edwardsville Road, Madison, entertained guests at a holiday party to announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Yvonne M. Romanic, to Neal L. Hickman.

son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Hickman Sr., 2409 St. Roberts Lane, St. Charles, Mo.

The best couple also disclosed plans for the wedding. The ceremony will take place on Aug. 9 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

Miss Romanic, a graduate of St. Teresa Academy in East St. Louis, has received an associate degree in management at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She will complete her studies at SIUE this year for a B.S. degree in organizational behavior, specializing in marketing.

The bride-elect also is employed in the sales department at Granite City Steel.

Her fiancé was graduated from St. Charles (Mo.) High School and received an B.S. degree in marketing from Southeast Missouri State University. He is now employed as a salesman by Bostlich Stapling Co.

A member of Alpha Kappa Psi, the prospective groom-elect also belongs to an undergraduate rescue and recovery squad and is a St. Charles County deputy sheriff.

Guests attending the party included Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Hickman Sr. and Mrs. Harold Hickman Jr. and daughters, Wendy, Shelly and Sherry. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luetkenhaus and daughter, Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hickman and son, Timothy, from New Hampshire, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Romanic and children, Jeffrey, Stephan, Terri and Jennifer.

Christening dinner for Devany infant

A dinner party honoring Donald Joseph Devany II, one-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Devany, 1750 Venice Ave., was given this week at Charlie's Restaurant.

The dinner followed the infant's christening in a ceremony at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Fester officiated at the service. The godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Edwards.

Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ford Johnson, the maternal grandparents; Edward Devany of Venice, the paternal grandfather; Miss Robyn Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and sons, Michael and David.

$200 RADIO STOLEN

A $200 citizens' band radio was stolen from the vehicle of Allison Wallace, 2309 O'Hare Ave., parked at the Granite City Steel blast furnace parking lot, it was reported Monday. A wing vent window was forced open to gain entry.

Post-New Year topic —headache

That horrible pounding in your head, or that terrible tightness that feels as if steel fingers were gripping your temples—even that unbearable tightness in your neck.

They all spell the kind of pain that many of us feel on occasion—headache misery. And when you're in that kind of pain, nothing else seems to matter until it's gone.

A Department of Health, Education and Welfare booklet talks about what headaches tell us and what to do about them. Copies of Headaches are available for 25 cents each from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81002.

According to the booklet, doctors say that a headache is not a disease by itself, but a symptom. This is important because a symptom is a change in your bodily condition that points to something wrong.

Headaches can be the first warning of a serious condition which probably could be controlled if detected early. Only your doctor is trained to find and treat the cause of your headache symptoms.

If you remove the warning, day after day, with a pain-killer, you may be covering up the cause. Until you can see your doctor to determine the cause of your headache, the booklet suggests these remedies:

1. Rest, quiet, and fresh air often help.

2. Tension headaches are often relieved by massage of the neck muscles, heat from an electric pad, or a shower or warm tub soak, plus any medication the doctor may have prescribed.

3. Hunger can cause a headache, so try to make a habit of regular meals. If a meal is delayed more than an hour, a snack helps.

"Headaches" is one of the 250 selected federal publications listed in the current edition of the Consumer Information Index.

Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the index is available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81002, and at federal information centers located throughout the country.

DON'T SETTLE FOR JUST ANY COFFEE OR END TABLES

Often, many people don't give enough attention to selecting the coffee and end tables in their homes. Actually, there are more sizes, shapes, and types to choose from today than ever before, and a different coffee or end table can add new beauty and distinctiveness to your home.

For example, if you've always had a rectangular coffee table in front of your sofa, why not try a round, square or oval one?

You might also think about "bunching" or "piggy-back" coffee tables that can be used as one unit, or separated to give you extra tables when needed around the room.

When it comes to end tables, you'd be surprised how many people have tables that are not right for them or their room. Many of those end tables are either too big or too small for the space and the job the table is supposed to do.

Also, there's no law that says your end tables have to match each other. You might consider making your room more decorative by using two entirely different tables on either end of your sofa.

In any case, you don't have to settle for ineffective coffee and end tables, regardless of your budget. You can get ones that will help your room, and we'll be happy to aid you in your selection.

1974 a year of growth and change for Quad-Cities

CONSTRUCTION of Granite City's new secondary sewage treatment facility progressed rapidly during 1974. The $12-million facility is being constructed on Granite City Army Installation property. Completion is expected late in 1975.

(Press-Record Photo)

NEW SOYBEAN PROCESSING PLANT was completed and went into operation here during 1974. A poor soybean crop, however, caused Archer Daniels Midland Co. to discontinue operations until the availability of soybeans increases.

VETERAN CITY OFFICIAL. Donald Partney, 1965-73 mayor of Granite City and a municipal official for 26 years, died Jan. 26 after a lengthy illness.

SENIOR CITIZENS' CENTER was opened in downtown Granite City in September by Granite City Township. Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer here cuts the ribbon to open the facility.

SWEET REVENGE for Granite City Chief of Police Ron Veizer came in February as his team earned him the right to smash a pie in the face of Fire Chief Don Parente after the annual police-firemen's basketball game. Parente had won the right to "dish it out" the previous year.

(J. C. Richardson Photo)

NINE-INCH THICK ice on the Chain of Rocks Canal in January 1974 was just one sign of the severe winter and heavy snow Quad-Cityans endured last winter.

(Press-Record Photo)

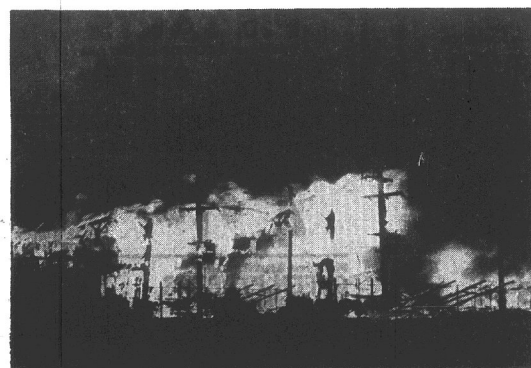

NEW VENICE MAYOR. William "Mike" Ebersoldt was sworn in April 30 to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. John E. Lee. Ebersoldt, left, here is administering the oath of office by Venice Comptroller Carl Byrnes. A portrait of Dr. Lee, who died Nov. 30, 1973, is in front of Byrnes. The remodeled Venice city hall was dedicated during the same ceremony.

HISTORIC FIRST for the East Side Levee and Sanitary District as it held its first meeting in Madison County at the Granite City levee district office in April. Despite a pledge from board president Jack Scovill, facing camera, third from left, that every other meeting would be held in this county, only two meetings were held here in 1974.

(Press-Record Photo)

DEVASTATING FIRE which destroyed the former Johns-Manville plant in Venice June 18. Firemen from seven area fire departments battled the blaze for nearly 24 hours. The 80-year-old plant was being used as a warehouse.

(Press-Record Photo)

ROUTE 203 north of Granite City began to take shape in 1974 as two lanes of new pavement were completed from Pontoon Road north to

(Press-Record Photo)

FINANCIAL TROUBLES continued to plague the Venice public school district in 1974 as voters rejected three tax referendums. The financial squeeze was typified by an April strike of teachers who wanted to negotiate a new contract and higher pay.

(Press-Record Photo)

LANDMARK RAZED in July. Central School was deeded to Granite City Township during 1974 and was razed to make room for a new town hall building which is to be constructed in the future. Many Granite City residents watched sadly as the 60 year-old school building was knocked into pieces.

(Press-Record Photo)

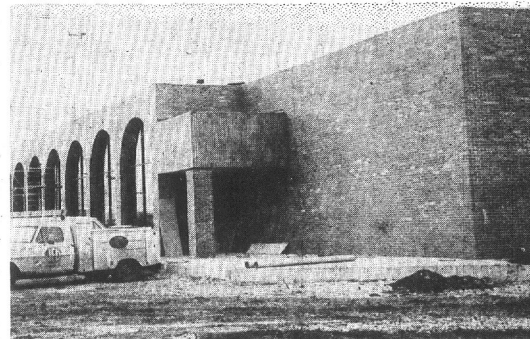

EIGHT NEW SHOVELS were used by Quad-City area officials in breaking ground for the Broadway relocation under the new viaduct in Venice. The project still is under construction.

(Press-Record Photo)

PORT EXPANSIONS in 1974 included new tanks which greatly increased the capacity of storage tanks operated by Apex Oil Co. The Apex additions were among improvements which have nearly doubled the volume handled in the port area on the Chain of Rocks Canal.

(Press-Record Photo)

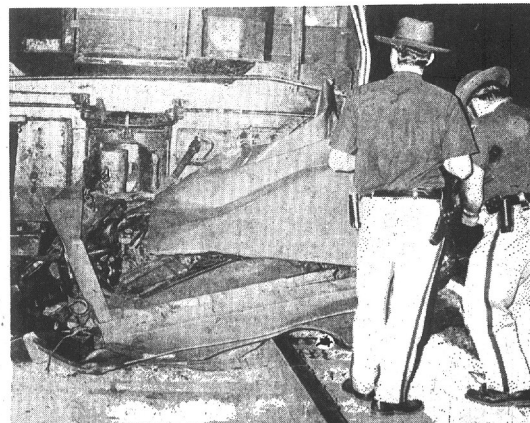

COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENTS in the Quad-City area in 1974 included the completion of most of the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center (shown here) and K-Mart, both along Nameoki Road. Other shopping centers and additions sprang up as Granite City continued to grow.

BOARDING BUSES. Quad-City residents and many visitors prepare to begin a tour of Granite City Steel facilities during a plant tour in May, the first in many years. Visitors saw the coke ovens, blast furnaces, basic oxygen furnaces, hot rolling mill and other facilities in operation.

CROSSING FATALITY the night of the Fourth of July on the Lake Drive crossing near Highway 162 in which Miss Linda M. Atkinson, 19, of Nameoki Township, lost her life. This and other fatal and near-fatal crossing accidents inspired a petition drive to obtain crossing signals at the Lake Drive and Mockingbird Lane crossings.

Pre-paid Assembly salaries challenged

Open letter to State Senator Jack Schaffer by the Board County Courier, Poplar Grove, Ill.

As we conclude a year illustrated in the annals of political chicanery... a calendar fraught with scandals at every level of our government... I should like to share briefly with you a means of rekindling respect in the body politic.

Certainly you are aware that the taxpayers, your constituents, harbor deep-rooted resentments and a compelling need to witness an ethical renaissance.

In the secret recesses of your mind, an uncomfortable realization that many members of the Illinois General Assembly have wallowed too long in the public trough and, as a consequence, caused a filthy mire. Recent and wholly unwarranted legislative pay raises, at a time when the public is being required to cope with an unprecedented level of inflation and spiraling unemployment, assuredly haven't met with high favor.

A self-serving enactment that permits a two-year "pre-payment" of legislative salaries... and continued remuneration for public officials under state and federal indictment... strikes me as a most appropriate point at which to begin restructuring our political ethics.

I would limit pre-payment to three months, and suspend the pay of any indicted legislator. Nowhere in the business or industrial community of our state or nation are salaries "pre-paid."

A wish for 1975—Regional goals reflecting confidence that life can be improved and problems can be solved

As 1975 begins, "quality of life" is a phrase receiving much attention. Everybody's for it, but not everybody defines it the same way.

A letter on this page today, urging an Illinois land use law, calls for preservation of appropriate land for agricultural purposes and open space through creation of agricultural districts. This may be a worthy goal, but a similar theoretical concept is being utilized inappropriately by some people in current discussions relating to Madison County.

Those who fought to establish zoning in Madison County a decade ago, and we number ourselves in that group, recall that unused land and farms were lumped together and designated as "agricultural" as a procedural convenience, supposedly without prejudice when future utilization plans changed. Non-agricultural zones were limited almost entirely to the tracts already being used for some non-farm purpose.

Much prejudice has developed since then, however, and planners have done much to lock the Illinois metropolitan area into a syndrome in which "everything is evil and, therefore, banned."

Admittedly, growth merely for growth's sake is hard to justify. But we wonder whether "no-growth, just for no-growth's sake" makes much sense, either.

Not much has come to light publicly, but it is becoming apparent that a planning committee of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission is far down the road toward shaping written goals. Such goals, once completed and in effect, can have a major impact on future policies and actions of citizens, businesses and governmental bodies. Conformity to the goals may be enforced with the weapon of federal fund availability for existing or needed services and projects.

What directions are being taken

Who will control Illinois land use?

To the Editor:

There has been a growing interest in land use controls by Congress in recent months. Several bills are in the hopper. The basic concept of some of the legislation is to adopt a "control and slide" approach, whereby, if the individual states come up with a land use plan meeting federal guidelines within a designated time period, then federal funds would be made available to aid the cooperating states in developing a land use program and process.

However, if a state failed to pass such implementing legislation, some Congressmen would propose cutting back on federal aid to that state for such matching fund projects as recreational development, highway construction and airport development.

Feelings on both sides of this issue are very strong. The lobbying pressure from groups such as environmentalists, real estate developers, agricultural associations and business trade associations has been intense. A governor obviously has a very important stake in this matter of land use planning and controls.

While there are those who still cling to the philosophy that "a

Firemen's mascot killed by fire truck

Trix, mascot and beloved friend of members of the Granite City Fire Department, is dead. In going to a fire at Branding's Grocery, 26th Street and Madison Avenue, one of the fire trucks ran over Trix and killed him. He had been living at Mercer's and the fire station since 1910.

How can $100,000 a year be spent?

Madison voters will be asked to decide how to use $100,000 yearly installments for the city treasury. From the municipality's Chain of Rocks Bridge profits. Suggestions include alleviating taxes, financing major improvements, such as a street paving program.

Experience so far bears out value of 25th Amendment

A four-month period of vacancy in the office of Vice President of the United States has ended. The swearing in of Nelson Rockefeller in the Senate chamber rounded out an unprecedented series of events affecting the executive branch of the federal government.

Much has been made of the fact that neither of the top two national officials was elected to his position by a vote of the people. But it can be regarded as a strength of our system, rather than a weakness, that America has been able to replace the two resigned election winners, Mr. Nixon and Mr. Agnew, by an exercise of the constitutional process short of the upheaval of special elections.

The succession of Gerald Ford to the Presidency and the appointment of Vice President Rockefeller have preserved an electoral mandate which the Republican party could claim from the November 1972 balloting.

Shift toward off-year state voting

By RICHARD CRABB

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois could have three different governors, all duly elected, in the next 51 months.

Daniel Walker is Governor No. 1.

In November, 1976, Illinois will elect a governor, possibly not Walker, who would be Governor No. 2.

Twenty-four months later, in 1978, Illinois will again elect a governor, possibly neither Walker nor the governor elected in 1976. He would be Governor No. 3.

Our citizenry is as yet generally unaware of this unique circumstance, but Illinois political leaders aren't among the disinterested.

Mayor Daley, Atty. Gen. William Scott, Secy. of State Michael Howlett, George Burditt (who certainly had something in mind besides laying himself down in front of the Adlai Stevenson steamroller), Donald Rumsfeld (who is the No. 2 man in the White House but with a reported interest in high Illinois elective office), Lt. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan and a long list of others, are very much aware of what is forthcoming in the elective process.

Much that took place in the 1974 campaign was with 1976 and 1978 in mind and specifically whether Illinois will have one, two or three men (there is undoubtedly a woman governor in Illinois' future but we think not in the next 51 months) occupy the governor's chair in the next four-year period.

This chance for three different legally elected governors in Illinois has never existed before. It is unlikely that it ever will again.

For 156 years, until Nov. 5 this year, Illinois has had "big-year" and "off-year" elections in even-numbered

U. S. moves to stiffen 55 speed enforcement

By FRANK MACOMBER

American motorists are slow to change their driving habits unless the government gives them a nudge, even in times of threatened gasoline shortages and price hikes.

So the Department of Transportation is drafting a bill for the new Congress convening in January. It would penalize states which fail to enforce the national 55-mile-per-hour speed limit.

The present above-55 ban expires next June 30. The department's idea is to include in a renewal bill a provision that states which don't halt enough speeders be deprived of some federal highway construction funds until their speed law enforcement performance takes on some like these has not been available.

And this lack of information has made it difficult to assess exactly where the strengths and weaknesses of the state's educational system lie, where additional resources ought to be concentrated, and in what areas the state education office should be helping local school districts.

The Illinois Inventory of Educational Progress, a tool to assess the educational attainment and attitudes of Illinois students, will be launched in September 1975 to provide this type of information, retiring State School Superintendent Michael J.

Bakalis has announced.

"The inventory is just that — an inventory of what students actually know and how they feel about their education," Bakalis said.

"The information collected through the survey will tell us whether the Illinois educational system is meeting specific objectives in various subject and attitudinal areas," he said.

The objectives are based on the ten broad goals outlined in the Superintendent of Public Instruction's publication, "Action Goals for the Seventies."

These goals for Illinois education were compiled after hearings were held around the state to collect testimony from educators and citizens on what goals they felt education should accomplish.

What the inventory will not be, Bakalis said, is a tool to determine the general aptitude of students, how a particular student ranks in relation to other students, or even how well individual school districts are doing.

"Names of students tested and school districts will be kept confidential," Bakalis stressed.

"This inventory is not designed to measure the success or lack of success of individual school districts," he said.

"Information will be reported in terms of three geographic regions and of the type of school district tested — such as unit or dual; and urban, suburban, or rural."

In addition to providing the student performance information, the inventory will allow measurement of growth or decline of knowledge or change in attitude over a period of time in the selected test areas.

"Testing will be done over a ten-year period, with a total of 6,000 students in grades 4, 8, and 11 being tested in three subject areas each year. The school districts and students will be chosen by a random sampling procedure."

Bakalis said a second pilot test of the program is under way this year.

"The future of every child in this state depends now on how well our school system is doing its job," said Bakalis. "It's time we measured the overall success of the system."

"Billions of dollars are spent every year on education, and not enough is known about the effectiveness of the expenditure in terms of student achievement — or lack of achievement — in specific areas."

"This inventory should prove to be an important tool in improving the quality of Illinois' educational system," he said.

A summary of some results from the first pilot survey has been completed.

Following is a sample of results from the first pilot test of the Illinois Inventory of Educational Progress. It was conducted by the Assessment and Evaluation Planning Section of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction during the fall and winter of 1973.

Two thousand eighth graders from 100 schools were tested. The pilot test assessed performance in the areas of functional literacy, citizenship, attitudes and psychomotor performance.

Some results for Illinois as a whole are:

72 per cent of students tested knew a United States citizen should look in the Constitution for a statement of his civil rights; 13 per cent answered with the Declaration of Independence.

32 per cent said the President is the person who has the power to declare an act of Congress unconstitutional; another 32 per cent answered that it is the U. S. Supreme Court.

78 per cent of students knew an ointment labeled "not for deep puncture wounds" should not be used for a wound caused by stepping on a nail.

63 per cent of the responses to twelve items about general school morale were favorable. Students were asked to respond to such items as: "I'd rather go to this school than most."

"Often I'm afraid I'll do something wrong at school."

"If it were possible, I would transfer to another school."

22 per cent of the students said they have discussed their plans for future education or employment with a teacher or school counselor.

Self-help is suggested for 'alienated' workers

"I like work. It fascinates me. I can sit and look at it for hours," said English humorist Jerome Jerome.

Polsters and pundits tell us Jerome's witicism is the motto of the typical American worker. The reason, they say, is that many jobs are boring, dehumanizing and unrewarding.

The Family Economics Bureau, however, found that most studies featuring dissatisfied employees forget to mention that they are a minority. The majority of employed people still are satisfied with their jobs, according to the polls.

Yet, there is little doubt that work dissatisfaction is a serious problem in America. That's the bad news. The good news is that most people can help themselves overcome low morale on the job.

Here's how:

- (1) Identify the performance that your boss and company value most. There's your big chance.

- (2) Learn new skills that give you "leverage" when you apply for transfer to a better job. Sign up for every in-house training program that will improve your qualifications. Go to night classes at local trade schools or colleges. Many companies pay all or most of the cost.

- (3) Do the best job you can in terms of hard work, persistence and imagination — to attract your boss's attention.

- (4) Act enthusiastic, and you might become genuinely enthusiastic. You'll begin noticing enjoyable features of your job that were invisible before.

- (5) Go see your boss. Don't complain. Discuss a problem and your suggestions for solving it. The boss may see you in a new light, communication channels may open, and undreamed changes may occur. Above all, do something. Once you've made a clenched fist decision to take the initiative, you'll feel better immediately.

Many people who are sincere in their desire to help themselves by their own bootstraps may still find because their attitudes impede effective action, the Family Economics Bureau reports.

Most people realize that anger, brooding, and a complaining attitude magnify their problems and increase the difficulty in solving them.

But it takes an exceptional person to admit his shortcomings. Doing so could be the most important step toward greater happiness you ever take.

You might realize, for example, that you aren't trying hard enough to do your best work. Or, you may conclude that you simply are not as well qualified for the promotion you missed as the co-worker who was promoted.

Once you have identified your problems, the action you must take to solve them becomes much clearer, reports the bureau.

Nevertheless, it is possible that the best job in your field would not satisfy you. With your interests and abilities, you ought to be in another line of work.

If you really are trapped in a job that bores, frustrates and angers you into aggressions and into compensations, such as drinking, drugs and screaming at your spouse — and if your employer doesn't care — then look for another job.

The crippled lives in store for you and your family if you "stick it out" make virtually all the risks of new employment worthwhile.

Do-it-yourself employee motivation does not, of course, relieve employers of the responsibility to provide meaningful work with a measure of challenge, variety and participation in decisions about how the work is to be done.

But, the Family Economics Bureau concludes, as an employee you can't be helped unless you want to be helped, unless you respond positively to your employer's efforts — and unless you attempt to help yourself.

Tax cut? Gas tax? Debate is under way

By LESTER BELL

Washington Bureau

The Joint Economic Committee of Congress proposes changes in administration policy against which Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., will be measuring their own ideas before the new 94th Congress convenes this month.

The committee in a somber outlook unanimously called for a $10 billion to $12 billion tax cut to revitalize the economy.

At the same time, it recommended a 30-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax to conserve energy.

The committee's report was mandated by a senate resolution Aug. 7. Its main argument is that the United States faces its worst recession in more than 35 years and it contends the only attack on both inflation and recession is to foster economic growth by fiscal and monetary stimulation and some wage-price intervention.

"They've got the debate going," said an aide to Percy. "It's very much out in the open now."

Percy and his top aides already have their own internal office debate under way on "what is the correct policy" for combating inflation and recession.

Percy's current thinking on the big tax cut proposed by the joint committee is "that it is too large at present," an aide said.

Until recently, Percy was calling for a tax increase to cool inflation.

Only last week, Percy called for a 10-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline to cut oil consumption by 10 per cent. This would increase to 20 cents on Jan. 1, 1976.

The joint committee and Percy both provide rebate, or refund, features in their gas-tax proposals.

Stevenson, said an aide in the Illinois Democrat's office, at last report favored at most a $3 billion tax cut for low and middle income brackets.

Whether he would support the committee's higher figure was not known.

Stevenson's chief tax argument is for reforms across the board. He would end tax breaks on federal programs encouraging exports of commodities in short supply and reduce the oil depletion allowance. Stevenson has not endorsed higher federal gas taxes.

Both Percy and Stevenson take the gravest possible view of the nation's economic plight.

Percy, in a recent interview, reminded a reporter that he has "for many months been urging the President and the Congress to act."

"We cannot sit here and just simply hope that this problem were facing is going to be over," he said.

Stevenson last fall warned that a "concerted national effort is essential" to meet the twin dangers of inflation and recession.

"The old-time religion of across-the-board budget cutting and a restrictive monetary policy is a prescription for disaster," Stevenson said.

The joint committee may have put out a well-timed report. Senators and congressmen who do not have to return to Washington until mid-January, for the convening of the 94th Congress can ponder its implications and perhaps be ready with their own proposals early in the next session.

Meanwhile, the joint committee report is already being interpreted here as the fuel that at last ignites the great debate on the nation's most urgent problem.

New manager at Piper

Piper Industries, Inc. has announced appointments in the Metal Services Division, its St. Louis area facility located in Madison, (No. 9 Fox Industrial Park).

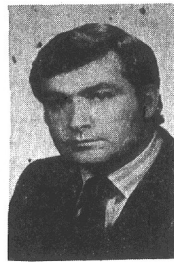

James V. Murphy has been promoted to general manager. Previously, Murphy served as vice president of sales.

John Sugrue, formerly associated with Bethlehem Steel Co., St. Louis, has joined the Metal Service Sales Department as sales coordinator. George Gavlick of the Metal Service Processing Department, will be a new member of the sales force.

The Metal Services Division of Piper Industries, having recently completed a $1,000,000 expansion program, is the most complete metal processing center in the Midwest, officials said.

These personnel changes and improved facilities will serve to increase their ability to handle the processing and metal marketing needs of St. Louis and outlying areas.

TURNTABLE SPECIAL!

PE 3012

1/2 price for a truly superior turntable! Its speed has proven to be absolutely accurate. The tonearm tracks flawlessly as low as 1-1/2 grams and protects the stylus of the $60 ADC 250XE cartridge we've included with a 'fail-safe' system that prevents the tonearm from ever descending on a bare platter. Cueing is damped in both directions... and we've included the base. Reg. $184.85

Elizabeth Baker and Jon Lyerla are wed

Miss Elizabeth Ann Baker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Baker, 2323 State St., and Jon R. Lyerla, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyerla, 203 Westview, Collinsville, were united in marriage in an evening ceremony on Dec. 21 at the First Baptist Church in Granite City.

Mrs. Marge Ellsworth presided at the organ and played a program of nuptial music prior to the ceremony.

Soloists Elvin Kendall sang "More" and Miss Sandra Baker sang "The Wedding Song."

Hurricane candelabra arranged with a Christmas tree decorated the sanctuary. Illumination was provided by burning tapers in aisle hurricane standards for the 7 o'clock service, performed by the Rev. William Showers.

An ivory satin gown made in Empire style and lavishly accented with lace motifs was worn by the bride. Her dress was complemented with a lace bordered veil, elbow length, secured to an ivory satin bow.

A delicate lace ruffle marked the high neckline and the cuffs of the full bishop sleeves. A matching ruffle encircled the waistline and edged the hem of the bell shaped skirt.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white Jack Frost roses combined with red baby's breath.

Miss Sandra Baker, a sister of the bride, served as honor attendant. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Amy Black, Mrs. Laura Taton, Miss Gail Kendall and Mrs. Karen Cline.

They selected identical dresses designed with ivory lace bodices and ruffled necklines. The long skirts of red velvet matched the velvet bolero style jackets.

Each attendant carried a nosegay of white carnations centered with red carnations and tied with white satin ribbons.

Julie Ann Kern, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a long red velvet frock enhanced with Chantilly lace around the cuffs. An ivory velvet ribbon marked the high rise waistline and she held a miniature nosegay of carnations.

The groom chose Bruce Black as his best man. Philip Baker, a brother of the bride, Rick Andrews, Randy Andrews, John Lucas, Bruce Wilson, a cousin of the bride, Rich Brown, Jeff Pirtle and John Guse completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Nancy Kern, the bride's cousin, registered guests at a reception held at the VFW Hall. Mrs. Don Wilson, an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Peggy Weiss and Mrs. Rhonda McDowell assisted at the serving table.

Dale Thompson and Keith Wilson, cousins of the bride, were candlelighters. Rob and Andy Lyerla, the groom's nephews, served as ringbearers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyerla, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

A 1970 graduate of Granite City High School, the bride was graduated this year from Southern Illinois University with a B.S. degree in special education. She is employed as a teacher in the Edwardsville School District.

The groom was graduated in 1971 from Collinsville High School. He now attends SIUE, where he is majoring in business administration. He also works at Boy's Clothing in Fairview Heights.

After a wedding trip the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Lyerla will reside in Collinsville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Baker chose a green knit gown, full length, created with a fitted bodice and long sleeves. She wore a corsage of red carnations and white roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Lyerla, was attired in a formal length dress fashioned with a pink polyester bodice and a skirt of burgandy crushed velvet, worn with a matching jacket and a corsage of pink carnations and white roses.

Pack 141 hosts family party

Cub Pack 141 members viewed a skit, entitled "It was the Night Before Christmas," at a Christmas party held last week at Mitchell School.

Those participating in the playlet were Cub Scouts Larry Watson, Jason Durrett, Randy Barton, Sam Tate, Rick Jones and Darin Clatts from Den 3, under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Jones, den leader.

The cubs decorated a Christmas tree with ornaments, they had made at den meetings and also presented their parents with handmade gifts. Special gifts were given to the den leaders, Mrs. Faye Wallace and Mrs. Jones.

Christmas carols were sung and in singing "I've Got That Cub Scout Spirit," Mrs. Sandy Buford, Mrs. Ann Pether and Mrs. Louise Bladick directed a games period.

The opening flag ceremony was given by Den 3 and Eddie Graham, assistant den chief, led the pledge of allegiance.

Cubmaster James Graham awarded Bobcat pins to Brian Pickers, Brian Stemmer and Richard Spillers, and Wolf badges to Lenny Graham and Gerald Hasselbrock.

Charles Buford, Webelo

leader, awarded artist and citizen badges to Jim Franko and John Durrett. Owen Sullivan of Webelo Den 8 gave a citizen badge to John Acosta and fostered badges to John Lingle and Glen Sullivan.

Acosta and Sullivan also received the Arrow of Light award in ceremonies conducted by Scoutmaster Paul Lingle of Troop 124.

Luebben presented former Cubmaster Ed Smyth and his wife with a plaque in appreciation of their leadership efforts. Smith led the pack for two years and his wife served as treasurer and assistant den leader.

Santa Claus visited the party and distributed rocket kits to the boys, who will participate in a rocket derby at the January meeting. He also gave out stockings made by Mrs. Pether and other girls.

Gifts were donated by Quad-City area merchants and collected by Mrs. Faye Wallace, Mrs. Sharon Howland, James and Henrietta Graham and Mrs. Sandy Buford. The candy was donated by the F-Troop Motorcycle Club of Granite City.

Refreshments were served by the mothers of Den 3 cubs.

St. John Lutheran to install

Newly elected church officers for 1975 will be installed Sunday at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues.

He bid no one a last farewell.
Not even a goodbye.
"He was gone before we knew it
And only God knows why."
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss him yet.
God gave us strength to face it
And courage to face the bold.
But what it meant to lose him
No one wins and time kills not.
Our heart aches with sadness.
Our eyes shed many tears.
God knows how much we miss him.

MAN WITH THE GOLDEN GUN features (left to right) Herve Villechaise, Maude Adams and Christopher Lee. James Bond is played by Roger Moore in the film.

James Bond movie again features— what else?—villains and beauties

By NANCY ANDERSON
HOLLYWOOD—I just had breakfast with Christopher Lee, Maude Adams and a nidget.

If you're wondering what these strangely assorted people have in common besides a breakfast table in the Polo Lounge of the Beverly Hills Hotel, it's charm and villains' roles in the new James Bond movie, "The Man With the Golden Gun."

Six-foot, 4-inch Lee plays Scaramanga, "a white knight of evil," who is paid $1 million a killing.

Three-foot, 10-inch Herve Villechaise, a French artist-actor, plays Lee's evil cohort.

While Miss Adams, who is 5 feet, 9 and whose other measurements are pretty exciting, plays Andrea, a rotten lady with devious designs.

When I last saw Lee two years ago, he'd said he was trying to escape his image as "The Crown Prince of Terror," acquired through starring roles in a deluge of horror pictures.

He wanted to get away from that sort of thing, he'd said, but, by golly, here he was two years later beating the drum for a film in which he'd played a homicidal weirdo.

How come?

"Oh, I did get away from those horror roles," Lee assured. "I meant it when I said I was tired of those monster things."

"But I never said I wouldn't play heavies or villains, because I think the villain often has the best role in a picture."

"The Man With the Golden Gun" is a very different thing from the horror pictures. The difference between them is as great as that between a comedy and a musical.

Out of his fiend makeup, Lee is a handsome, debonair chap as physically well-equipped to play a hero as a villain. He's not sure which he'll play next, because he's currently considering eight picture offers and isn't at all certain at this point which one he'll take.

While Lee was defending his return to evil in "The Man With the Golden Gun," Miss Adams was defending her presence in the film at all.

Bond pictures, as you may know, bring blood to the eyes of women's libbers who object that dashing Agent 007 treats ladies as the merest sex objects. Thus it seemed contradictory that Miss Adams who professes to be "all for Women's Lib" should lend herself to such a production.

"Actually, Andrea is much more than a sex object," she maintained. "She's quite complex. Anyways, I'm an actress, and I like to work."

So there!

"Yes!" Lee chimed in. "This Bond picture is quite remarkable, I think, because for the first time the people in it seem real.

"Bond pictures continue to be popular because they offer pure escapism. The hero is fantasy, because if there were a real person like James Bond, he'd be arrested and shot within five minutes."

"Even the violence is fantasy violence."

"People go to Bond movies for the same reason they go to Disneyland."

Meanwhile Villechaise breakfasted quietly at his side of the table and spoke when spoken to.

A talented painter, he was recognized as an artist before he became an actor and at 16 became the youngest painter admitted to the Salon d'Automne.

"I always wanted to be an actor, but my parents objected. They wanted me to be a painter because painters are more respected in France," he said.

"I used to sell my paintings, but for the past four years I've refused to. The galleries are such a bad scene. A very bad scene. Now I am going to France to act."

BURGLARY ON DALE
Items worth about $575 were stolen from the home of Jack Brown, 3045 Dale Ave., in a burglary which was reported at 10:30 p.m. Monday. A bedroom window and the kitchen door were found open. A storm window had been removed from a bedroom window and was found on the lawn. Taken were a movie projector and screen, two rifles and two shotguns, a jewelry box and a quantity of jewelry.

TOOLS ARE STOLEN
A canvas bag containing tools worth about $150 was stolen from the building of Glenn Hollis at 3030 Madison Avenue which is being remodeled from the Red Barn into a Miley Tune-Up Center.

Cans, glass accepted at recycling station

Tin cans and glass bottles still are being accepted at the Coordinated Youth Services (CYS) recycling collection station at Niedringhaus Avenue and Adams Street.

However, no paper of any type will be accepted, C. A. "Bud" McMillan Jr., CYS coordinator, emphasized today. McMillan said, "The bottom has fallen out of the used paper market." He noted the CYS was required to pay a hauler to remove quantities of paper left at the facility.

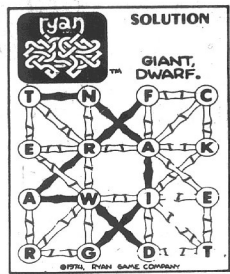

"We haven't the funds to do this, so please ask people not to bring their paper to us at this time."

McMillan said a paper firm which paid $37 a ton for used paper just four months ago no longer will accept it. "They may give you $1 a ton if you take it to the plant," he said. Alton Box Board also has ceased taking paper for the first time in the company's history, he added.

"If the picture does not change soon, we will be forced to close the recycling station entirely," McMillan said. Residents bringing glass bottles and cans to the collection center are asked to place the items inside the fenced area or near the gate if the center is closed.

BURGLARY ON MELROSE
A lamp, a radio and other items, all worth a total of about $155, were stolen from the home of Arthur Marcum, 4109 Melrose Ave., it was reported at 10:50 p.m. Monday. A television which had been found on Rode Avenue before the burglary was reported was identified as having been stolen from the house. Entry was gained by breaking the glass in the rear door.

New year will spotlight crime prevention efforts

By CLARENCE M. KELLEY
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation

The outset of the new year is traditionally a period of reflection. It is an opportune time to weigh accomplishments, re-examine priorities, and rededicate oneself to the tasks ahead.

In recent years, the law enforcement profession has, in my opinion, accomplished much. As a result, we are on the threshold of an era of major change in the structure and performance of our profession. And, this is all to the good.

We should be frank in acknowledging, however, that there are many inadequacies which have shackled the fulfillment of our responsibilities.

Some of these are giving way to enlightened programs and procedures that greatly enhance our ability to serve the community in the just and effective administration of the law.

There has never been a time in my more than 30-year law enforcement career when the profession has been better equipped to meet its challenges.

Our material and intellectual resources have never been greater. Not the least of these is a clearer understanding among the profession, and a growing appreciation by the public as well, of the role of the police in our society.

Without these insights into our responsibilities, I am certain that the great strides which have been made in law enforcement training, equipment, planning, research, technology and personnel selection would not have been possible.

While we are indebted to a host of separate public and private efforts in support of law enforcement, there is considerable room for pride in the fact that many improvements have been initiated and cultivated within the profession.

Although much has been accomplished, there is still much left to do.

Our maturing professional competence must be more efficiently harnessed to combat the continued growth of crime. I believe the more immediate priorities for law enforcement in the new year are:

Emphasizing creative management of police efforts removing opportunities for crime by vigorous involvement in prevention programs.

Intensifying the search for more meaningful measurements of police performance.

Educating the public about the integrity of and the need for police technological systems, which are regrettably viewed by too many persons as unreasonable encroachments on personal privacy.

Maintaining the confidentiality of law enforcement investigations seeking responsible guidance from concerned experts in other professional disciplines.

And heightening cooperation with other segments of the administration of justice system in order to further unify the front against lawlessness.

There are other worthy priorities. I invite all members of the law enforcement profession to join me in seriously taking stock of our strengths and our weaknesses.

We owe it to ourselves, to our profession, and, more importantly, to the public, which has every right to expect that we do so.

State Fair cited for design

The Illinois State Fair was one of 19 organizations cited for outstanding design for an environmental setting during 1974 by Industrial Design, a national magazine dealing with the design industry.

In citing the Fair, the magazine said: "The Illinois State Fairgrounds had been neglected for many years. The design problem became a total image program involving the architecture, grounds, signage, banners, pedestrian and vehicular traffic, graphics, printed material and advertising."

"Phase 1 of the design program included restoration, signage, graphics and a long-range comprehensive design plan."

"The designers established a unified scheme for all fair buildings and colors were used to highlight the architectural details within a scale of earth tones. Color programs were established for all ground equipment to unify the site."

"A new state fair symbol was designed using a traditional windmill and interpreting it in a contemporary style. Moldings and three dimension wood letterforms were used for building identification; special activity identification and directional signage were designed as separate structure systems."
